FOREYARD ARM from the U.S.S. Constitution—"Old Ironsides"
Dedicated Navy Day, 1931

Foreword—

NINETY YEARS is a grand, fine age for a public educational institution. Not many have weathered the struggles of organization, the worries of increasing financial strains, the constant raising of criteria, and the maintenance of ideals set by dedicated founders, with more dignity than has Topeka High School. Its ninety years have made a mark on thousands of young people who have passed through its Halls; and the whole community has benefited from its emphasis on learning, culture, good sportsmanship, and personal development in many fields.

It has never been a machine, turning out graduates in a mold; there has always been a closeness between faculty and students and a deep concern for both by its administrators.

The next years of Topeka High School's first century present new challenges for the lifting of standards, the solving of expansion needs, and the continuance of fine public relations.

So, Happy Birthday, Beloved Troy, as 1960 opens on your tenth glorious decade.

Dear Norma,
We had a swinger's

Administration

What is a student without a teacher?

An unfilled vase, empty of flowers.

What is a school without its faculty?

A plane without a pilot, going nowhere.

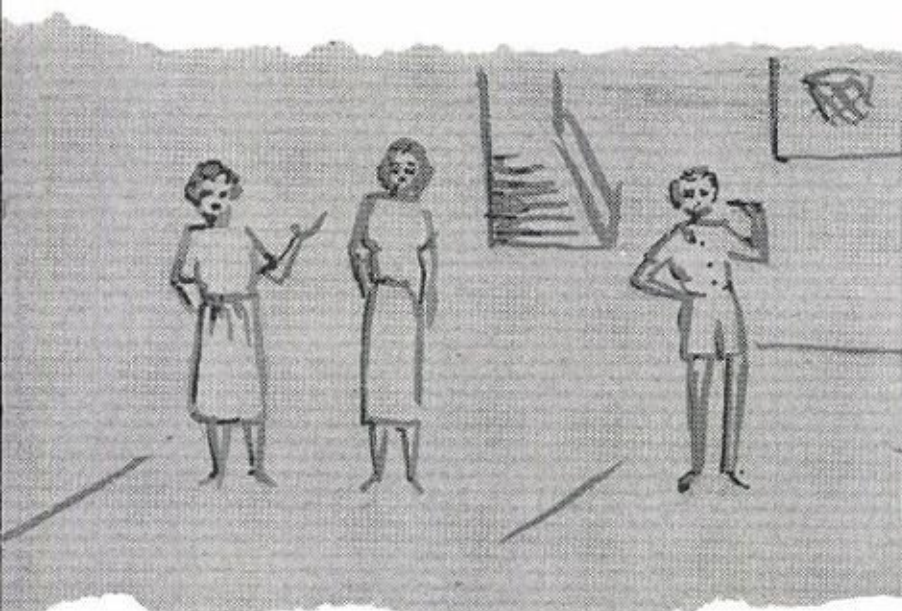

But here the vases are filled with

The flowers of knowledge, and the plane

Is on a course with a goal to reach,

And for these things and many more,

We say—Thank you.

City Schools—

Elected Officials Surmount Difficulties; Forge Ahead

UNTOLD HOURS of devoted efforts are put in daily, weekly, and yearly by the appointed administrators of the Topeka Public School System and the elected School Board Members. Working for the city's youth, committees and individuals have functioned efficiently and tirelessly to provide the best possible educational facilities from kindergarten through high school graduation.

Numerous tasks faced the administration this year as they contemplated the high enrollment of the next decade. The need for additional teachers, up-to-date methods and improved instruction, replacement of outmoded equipment, and more classrooms made heavy drains on educational funds. Undaunted by the setback of the defeat of the School Bond Proposal, this determined group has gathered momentum. As the 1956-60 year closes, new plans are underway to complete the building program, to place greater emphasis on the peculiar educational needs of today's young people, and to raise teaching standards with accompanying higher salaries—all without the loss of the personal side of education that has come to be expected by Topekans.

Although most students at Topeka High are not intimately aware of the scope of administrative problems, it is to their credit that they know that their appreciation will need to be shown in terms of higher scholastic records.

High School—

Qualified Leaders Willingly Dedicate Selves to Youth

THE SUM of wisdom is that time is never lost that is devoted to work." If this maxim is believable, then Troy's administrators rarely lose time, for their hours are spent in constant application to their all-encompassing job of operating a big school. Directing everything from scholarships to assemblies, from special curricula to special bulletins, the quintet demonstrates perpetual motion.

The responsibilities of enrolling over 2,200 students fall on the shoulders of Mr. Burnette, new director of instruction. As the guidance counselor, Mr. Meyers deals with personal problems, career planning, and setting up testing programs. Along with him in this work are Miss Aley and Mr. Bodenhause, as student deans. Troy's many awards and scholarship ratings have long been due to the expert direction of Miss Pringle whose responsibility it is that the college-bound are qualified.

Under the sympathetic and able co-ordination of Principal Weaver, these five administrators work for the entire body of students to see that they have a well-rounded course of study, capable teachers to direct it, extra-curricular activities that please and develop them socially, and that all of it is done in an atmosphere of mental growth.

Faculty—

Prepare Students for Life's Mysteries, Adventures

WITH PATIENCE, good humor, and understanding, the faculty of THS endures the trials, tribulations, joys, and rewards of the students, thereby earning the respect of all. Because our teachers are before us every school day for nine months, we often take them for granted; yet these are the people who establish our fundamental desires to learn, therefore molding our lives.

Throwing open the doors of Troy last September, we welcomed eight new faculty members. Through departmental interests and through their social groups—The Guild, The Majority Club, and The Men's Club—they have all become closely associated with each other.

Lately, a great emphasis has been placed on the advantages of highly trained teachers; all of Troy's have Masters degrees or are taking graduate study. Five have acquired advanced degrees in the past year. This initiative, added to their regular professional participation, taken on the part of the THS faculty, shows their desire to improve themselves, thus improving us.

Contrary to popular belief, teachers are human too. They have their "ups" and "downs" the same as everyone: "ups" such as the earning of advanced degrees, summer vacations, trips to Europe, new homes, new cars, and new babies; "downs" such as Mr. Neaderhiser's broken leg, disappointments in students, and the ever-present parental problems with which we are all familiar in our own homes.

The students of THS have grown closer to their teachers this year, not only through their classes, but through many extra-curricular activities. They see them as sponsors of organizations, as counselors, and as personal friends. It is for all these things, as well as for countless intangibles, that the students of Topeka High School offer bouquets of gratitude to the wonderful faculty of Troy.

Office Personnel—

Versatility, Efficiency Oil Wheels of Big School

PHONES RINGING, voices humming, typewriters clicking—the all-over noise of hard work—These are the usual sounds in the administrative offices where the business of Troy is handled.

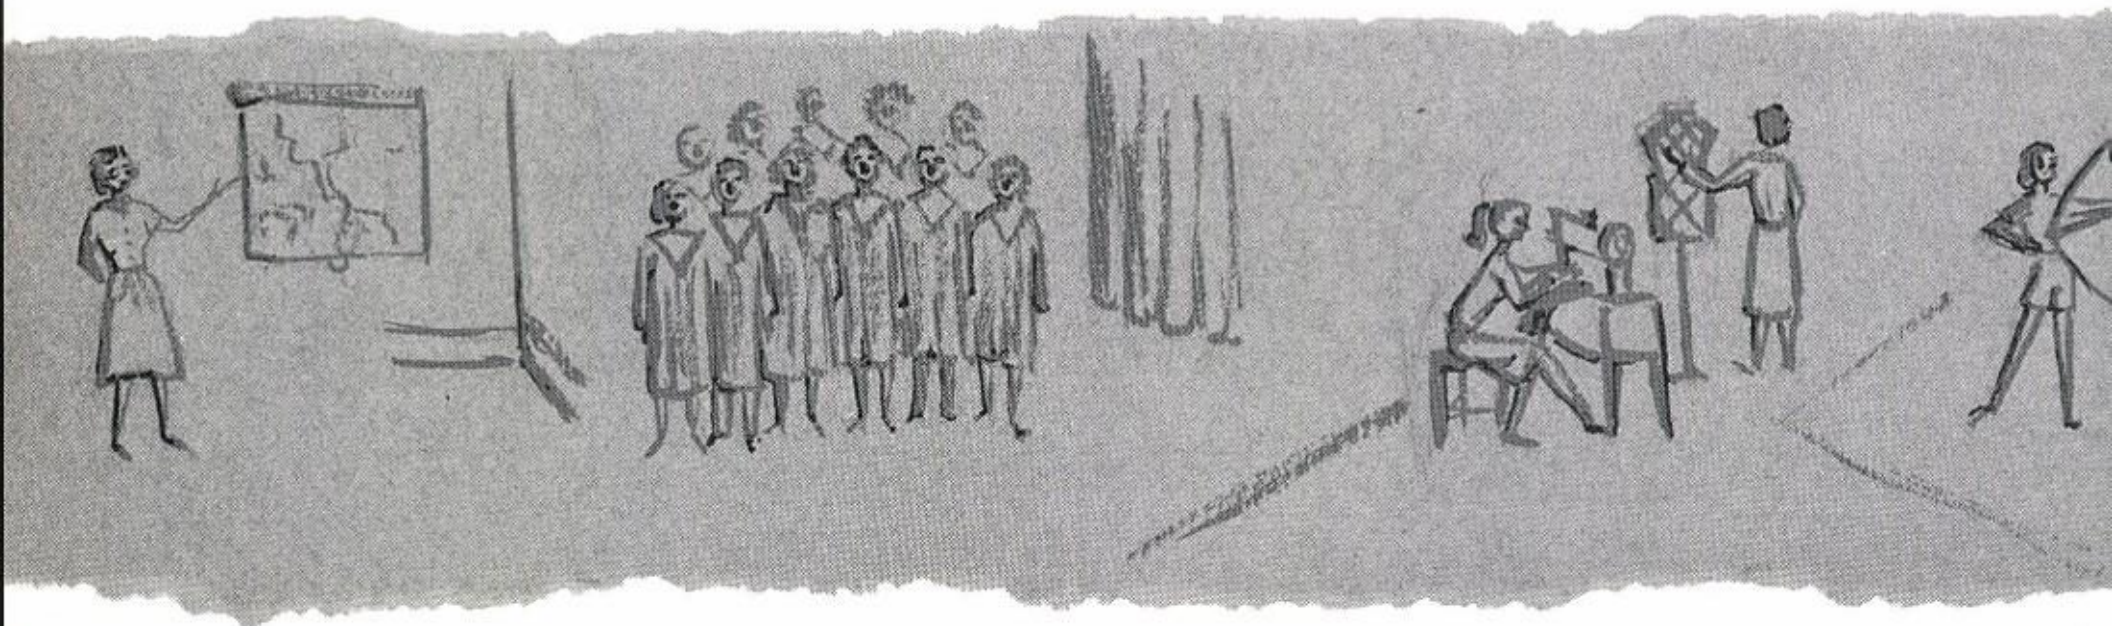

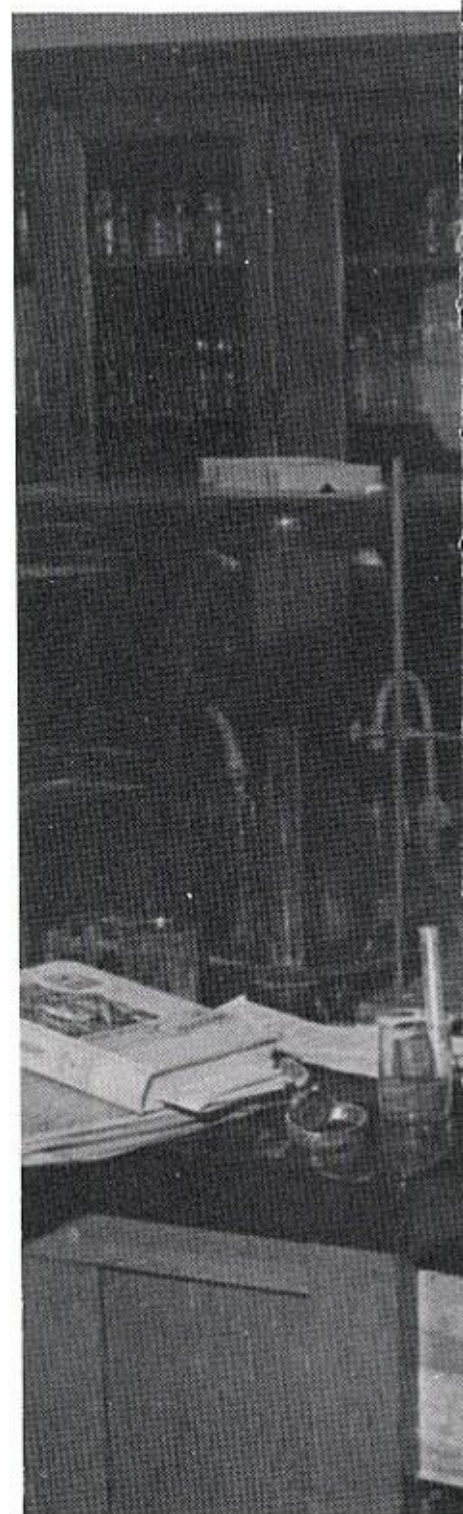

The office staff has the multiple job of handling money and attendance, typing tests and forms, making up bulletins, renting books, selling tickets, and answering the many questions asked by students, teachers, parents, and the public.

Nurse Boon is ready with medical aid anytime; Miss Sibberson combs the absence rolls for offenders; guidance secretaries check student records; and Mrs. Woodburn's steady hands smooth over many rough moments. All in all, the office staff makes a necessary complement to the activities of a lively student body and those who plan their educational policies.

SECRETARIES Pauline Hall and Mrs. Betty Myers help Director Chamness make decisions on Trade School publicity for National Education Week.

THE TOOLS of education are many and varied.

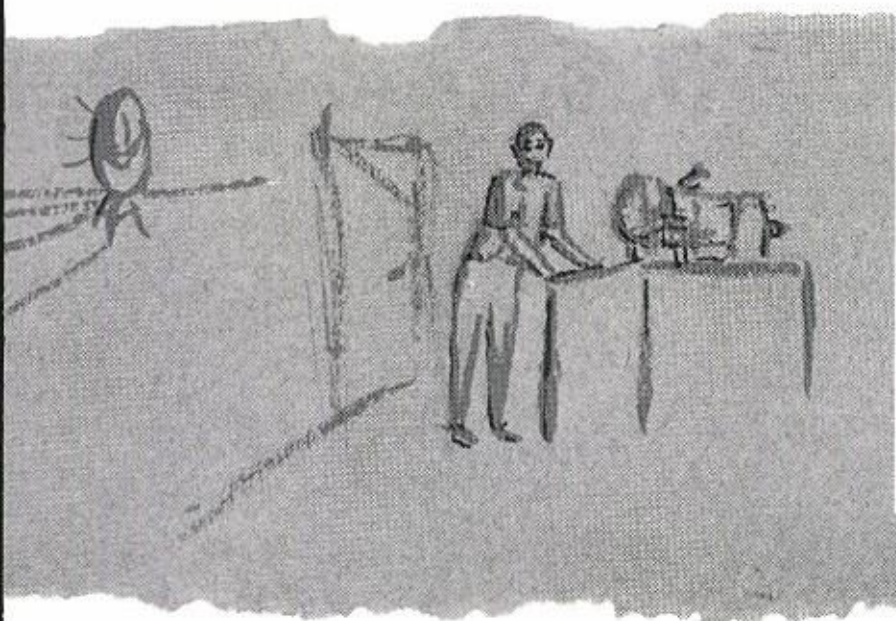

SCIENCE. Today's efforts—Tomorrow's necessity.

Departments

- Here, at Troy, in these halls and these rooms
We have watched the white-hot flare of
- A magnesium ribbon fired by a bunsen burner,
And sent the fire of music shimmering in
- Golden flame across the auditorium;
Here we have found the clear passionless logic
- Of a Euclidean theorem,
And read the resonant prose of Shakespeare;
And here, we have learned and become wiser.

Aims Stress Universal Need for Adequate Communication

FROM Julius Caesar to The Tale of Two Cities and the current best sellers, and from Chaucer to Melville and Stephen Vincent Benet, literature from many parts of the world and from the important periods of history was introduced to Topeka High's students through the various required and elective English courses. The faculty members of this, the largest of the academic departments, made constant effort to emphasize reading for pleasure as well as information and the understanding of problems. Studies were made on the needs of students entering careers immediately after high school as well as those continuing in college, with the hope of giving all THS graduates needed proficiency in the language arts.

For students interested in related fields, there were courses in speech training, play production, journalism, and publications. Emphasis in all classes was placed on writing, while new syntax studies and grammar reviews covered approximately half the class time.

The third year of the Sequence Classes found the successful coordination of Junior English and American History for the thirty-five students enrolled. Progress reports in the form of standardized tests were given throughout the year, while poetry, short story, and essay contests gave opportunities for individual expression in fictional and factual areas.

THAT American students are "inferior to Russians in scientific knowledge" is the implication appearing frequently in news stories. Along with the general upswing of interest due to recent scientific developments, this attitude has given impetus to Topeka's schools to offer a program of emphasized and broadened science courses and opportunities for experimentation.

Varying from the study of living matter to the study of the theories of life itself and the forces present in the universe, the more than forty classes form a well-balanced curriculum. Beginning students can acquire a basic knowledge of heredity, environment, health, and physical and chemical reactions. Advanced classes have opportunities for specific and independent study.

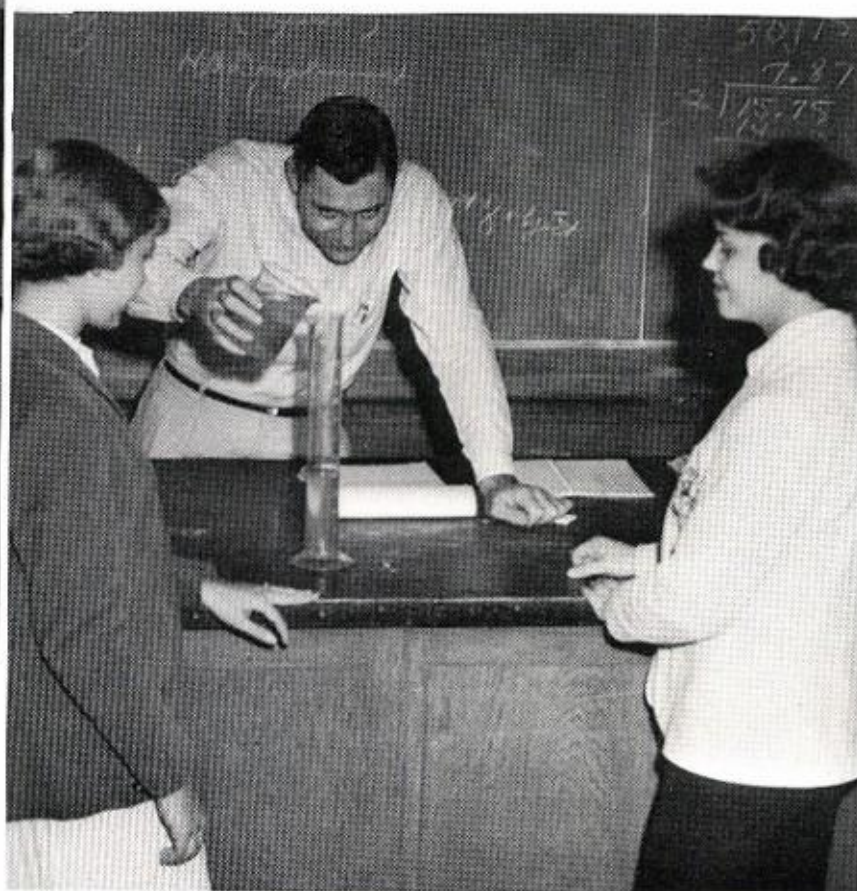

Because of the many opportunities for careers in the science world, exploratory interest is encouraged in all fields. Additional interest is promoted through special study in Science Seminar groups, the annual Science Fair, field trips, and special award programs.

Mathematics—

Axioms, Equations, Theorems—Values Seem Limitless

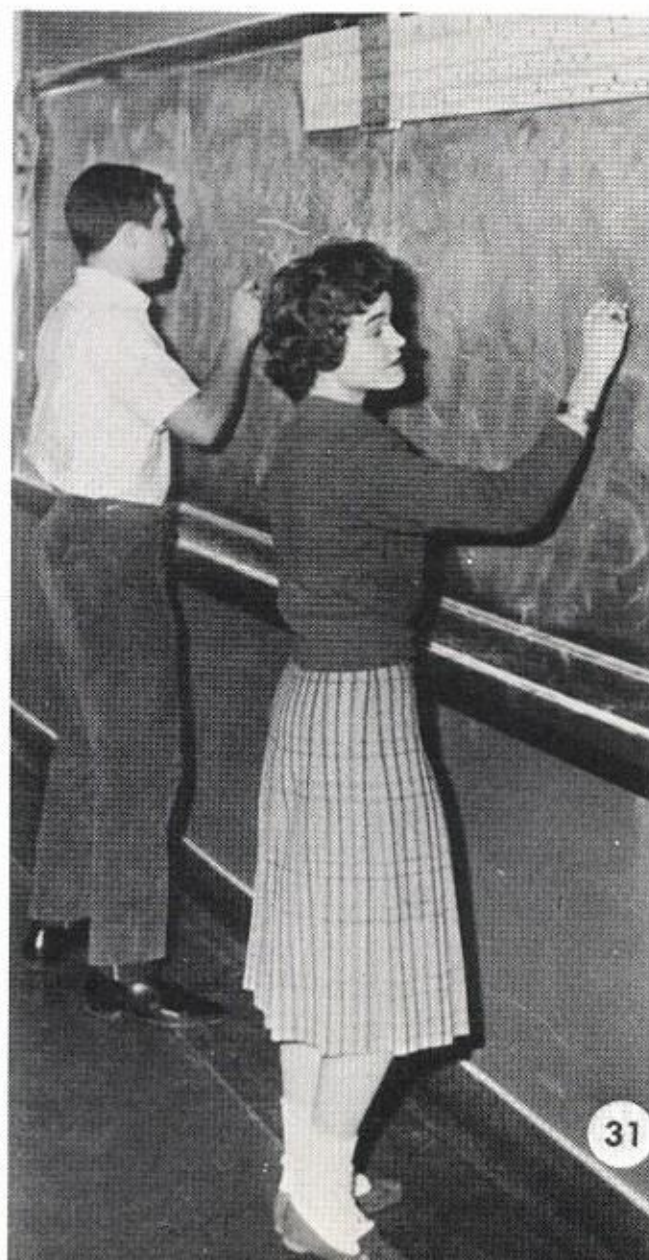

COLLEGE-BOUND students at THS are particularly fortunate in receiving "depth" training in both the fundamental and specialized mathematical fields. As director of the city-wide math program, Mrs. French has made a study of public school education in relation to advanced studies, and has given faculty members and students the advantage of national statistics on many levels. Jean Eberhart, Bob Dolgoff, and Mike Alexander represented Troy at K.U.'s summer math camp where students from all over the United States competed, not for honors, but for "depth" of comprehension.

In general math courses, all students received training in basics, relating that knowledge to the needs of adult life in everything from figuring income taxes to measuring carpet areas and computing interest rates. Emphasis has been consistently placed on four intellectual trouble spots, reading, thinking, reasoning, and comprehending. With a section of the library set aside for modern texts, mathematics rated the top interest for hundreds of Trojans.

Contradictory World Calls for Increased Understanding

WE LIVE in a world of dual natures—on one side is democracy and peace; on the other, servitude and unrest. Aware of this, the THS faculty has concerned itself with an attempt to increase world understanding by emphasizing knowledge of conditions and accepting of racial differences with the determination to uphold the principles of America's Four Freedoms.

Sophomores began their "tour of duty" with basic World History, and juniors followed through with two terms of American History. Seniors completed the required program with concentration on governmental procedures, featuring the annual County and City Days.

Elective courses covered the supplementary fields of Economics, Contemporary Problems, World Backgrounds, General Psychology, and a college credit course in Applied Psychology. Thus, the broad fields of personal, family, community, state, national, and universal understandings build a One World concept.

Debate—

Research, Techniques Pay Off; Tourney Wins Pile Up

RESOLVED: That the federal government should substantially increase its regulation of labor unions. With this topic well in mind, with brief cases packed with suggestions for combatting their opponents' arguments, with minds cleared for action, and with knowledge that they had the backing of friends and parents, Troy's debaters rallied all factors as they sought new records.

Two firsts, three seconds, four thirds, and a fourth place added ten mounted brass figurines to Topeka High's already bulging trophy cases. With the local chapter of NFL acting as liaison for the debaters, special recognition was made at a spring banquet, and winners received acclamation in assembly programs. As "ambassadors with portfolios", they made fine public relations for THS.

A WOMAN'S place is in the home—even when she combines it with a career," is a present day cliché. Mindful of its truth, the Home Ec faculty acquaints girls with both homemaking and the broad professional fields that are related.

The creative-minded are taught the advantages of planning wardrobes to express personalities as well as to learn basic construction. Emphasis is placed on style, color, line, and texture at each level of course offered. Girls enrolled in foods learn the value of everyday meal planning and simple entertainment as well as special diets and the budgeting of the food-dollar.

Family living courses reach into the future with Social Living, Home Decoration, Home Management, and Home Nursing. All center around one idea: to prepare the student for her place in the world, whether she becomes homemaker or career woman, or combines the two in happy, rewarding living in home and community.

Art, Crafts—

Eyes, Hands, Imaginations Learn To Use New Outlets

EMOTIONS are often undefinable and intangible, yet through art a student may uncover the basis or the outlet for his hopes and desires. An imaginative person feels at home in the THS art studios, for there his ideas and talents are encouraged. Students are free to interpret themselves in painting, designing, illustrating, lettering, layout work, weaving, leather tooling, wood carving, ceramics, mosaics, costume designing, metal smithing, or combinations.

Basic skills in media, textures, and techniques are stressed in first-year classes. Hands are trained to be steady and exact, relaxed and uninhibited, but always with an attempt to unlock the mystery of what all artists must "see." Advanced students may choose from specialized courses and often have work on display in the art gallery or main hall.

With the added advantage of the fine gallery facilities and the Topeka Art Guild shows, the department faculty fulfills its aim: to teach students to appreciate creativeness.

Language—

Small World, Isn't It?—Language Need Grows Evident

NOW that a trip from New York to Paris can be made in a few hours, and a phone call from Hong-Kong to San Francisco goes through in a matter of minutes, the need for basic understanding through languages becomes a necessity. By emphasizing this field, not only has the need been fulfilled, but the desire for better understanding between nations has been expanded.

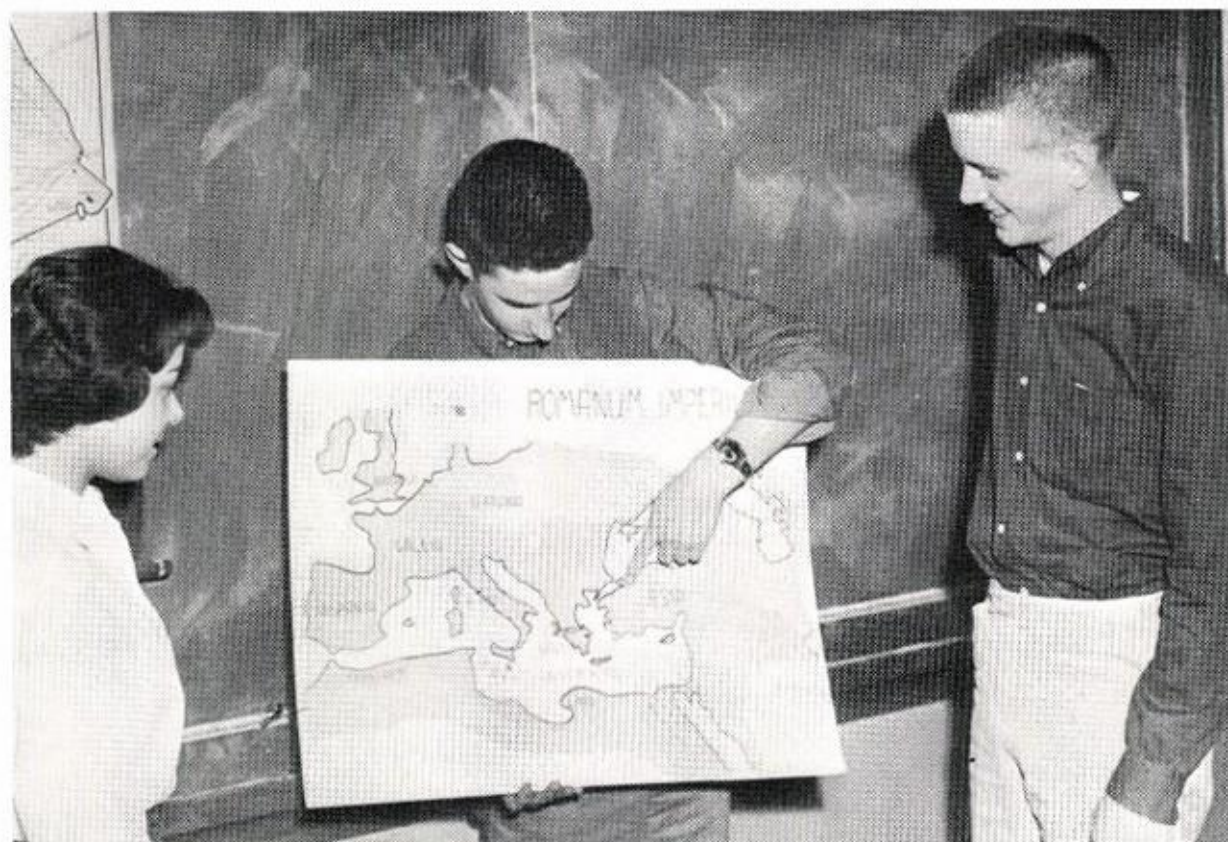

French, Latin, and Spanish students built their development on a basic first year study of vocabulary and structure. Advanced students gained knowledge of the parent countries through literary, cultural, and historical viewpoints. Songs, poems, games, dramas, short stories, and documentaries gave zest to a program of vital influence in present educational trends.

Today's world-shrinking comes from the breaking of language barriers, members of the faculty believe. "Language knowledge," they say, "is a big step toward world peace."

SINCE clerical skills and personality adjustment play vital roles in the American Economy, adequate preparation as well as wide coverage are offered business students at THS.

The "basic three," typing, shorthand, and business machines, emphasizing speed and accuracy, are the opening wedges into broader areas. Specific courses in Bookkeeping, Business Law and Arithmetic have been strengthened by this year's General Office Procedures.

Vocational classes in Cooperative Retail Selling and Office Practice give unusual opportunities for classroom instruction combined with on-the-job training in a mutually beneficial teacher-employer-employee relationship. Thus, through an efficient commercial program, many students may go directly from high school into the world of business with capabilities and confidence already well established.

BOOKS AND DREAMS are each a world; and books, we know, are a substantial world." Searching for this concreteness, Troy's students found in their unusually beautiful and finely equipped library the tangible means of broadening horizons by reading informative and entertaining books and periodicals.

Attendance soared sky-high during the year, with an average of 7,970 student visitors each month who checked out 2,828 books, a staggering figure upon which to base the annual statistics. Interest was boosted during National Book Week when hundreds of Trojans purchased paperback classics and best sellers for their personal libraries. Emphasis was placed on keeping teachers and students aware of new accessions by placing annotated lists on all bulletin boards.

In addition to assisting hundreds of visitors with their individual problems, Miss Miller visited classrooms and departmental meetings in order to aid both students and teachers in making full use of the library's facilities, and to plan how best to spend her budget to meet new trends in education as they apply to Topeka High.

Choir, Madrigals—

Top Singing Groups Become 'Ambassadors of Music'

IT WOULDN'T be Christmas without music by the Trojan Choir" is the oft heard comment of civic leaders, the student body, and the faculty. The sixty-three voice choir, specializing in religious numbers performed popular songs from Broadway hits with equal integrity.

At Thanksgiving, their arrangement of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" gave spine-tingling impetus to the reverent feeling of the season and respect for our American Heritage. At Easter their full-bodied rendition of Handel's Messiah literally brought every listener to his feet with the glorious "Hallelujah Chorus."

Troy's "Pride and Joy", the Madrigal Singers, featured sixteen of the best a cappella voices. Carrying on in the colorful medieval tradition, they appeared in formal attire, sitting around the banquet table. A popular group at civic meetings, they held to a tight guest appearance schedule during the three holiday seasons, thus becoming the best possible public relations carriers for the cultural aspects of THS.

MUSIC hath charms" is the old saying, but one that Trojan singers and directors, as well as audiences, confirm every day. Whether the singing is of folk tunes, spirituals, ballads, or hymns, there is the same dedication to the Muse of Song as there is when the melody is from the much-loved "My Fair Lady" or "Oklahoma!" The girls' lilting voices play on the heart's strings, while the boys' warm basses mirror the vim, vigor, and vitality of the youthful male. All show the obvious joy of singing together; and Mr. Fly's evident stress on good training is approved—the audiences are perennially charmed.

Trojan ensembles made many guest appearances during the year at Topeka's church and civic meetings, as well as in the operetta and at the traditional Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter all-school assemblies. "Singing as we work" is truly the title of the activities of these five popular vocal groups.

The Orchestra—

Competent Interpretation Assures Polished Performances

LOVE FOR MUSIC, talent to produce it, and a willingness to reach for perfection combined to keep the Trojan Orchestra on its toes, musically. Gathering momentum through fall practice sessions, the musicians profited immeasurably through the all-city clinic conducted in November by Gerald M. Carney of K.U.'s music staff.

The orchestra's first formal appearance was accompanying the vocal groups in the annual Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies, and in April they played a public concert for parents and friends. The string ensemble appeared several times before church and civic meetings, while the newly organized Boys' String Quartet shows promise of outstanding performance. The pit orchestra, chosen for the difficult job of accompanying "Oklahoma!", put in a strenuous six weeks under Mr. Hallman and Mr. Fly for the two-night stand of the popular operetta.

Outgrowth of orchestral interest in Topeka is the Youth Symphony, now in its second year. Made up of picked musicians from Topeka and nearby towns, it held Saturday practice sessions and played a Christmas concert, a Sunday Vespers, and a public concert in Holton March 15. Two Trojans held places on the Board of Directors, Ann Fetter and Joel Lawson, and Larry Hanna was a member of the adult Topeka Civic Symphony. With this broadened field for performing, with widening interest in music among young people, and with a director of high calibre, the orchestral talent of Topeka High stands to make a real name for itself.

The Band—

No Question Now! Expert Credits Group as 'Best Ever'

TOPEKA High School's bandsmen seem musically mature, and their musicianship is certainly an example of what practice will do," was the high praise of the "Maestro of Brass," Don Jacoby. His February appearance as guest artist at a public concert, and his direction of a clinic of over three hundred students from eastern Kansas schools, was the highlight of a successful season.

Altering programs and tempo to suit the occasion, the Trojan Band played at athletic events, marched on the playing field at halftimes, led in pep assemblies, and entertained junior high audiences. Troy's colorful musicians were controllers of emotions as the spirited strains of "Come on and give three cheers" ignited school spirit; when "Oh, say can you see" turned all eyes toward Old Glory; and when "The Holy City" opened wellsprings of man's faith in Man.

Loyalties sparked members in their plans for good times, and the spring trip and picnic made memorable social occasions, far removed from practice sessions. But whatever the "cords" or "chords" that tied them together, none will remain stronger than the words that echo near Room 332, "Musically mature . . . , the best I've ever seen."

Keynoters—

Sparkle and Spring, Swing and Sway; Trojans Love 'em

WITH rhythmic steps and intricate patterns, the Trojan majorettes added pep and sparkle to a colorful marching band. The six girls, wearing white uniforms with black and gold trim displayed composure under the broiling sun on parade or facing the biting wind on a chill November evening on the football field. Pert and pretty, these charmers were truly eye-stoppers.

If dancing is only as enjoyable as the music provided, and music is only as enjoyable as the musicians "feel" it, then the Trojan Dance Band is a success. The boys liked to make music; the listeners liked to dance to its rhythm. With vim and vigor, members experimented with the slow and the fast, with jazz, popular, and standard, all with the typical Trojan touch of originality.

Related Schools—

Students, Adults Take Advantage of Extra Class Time

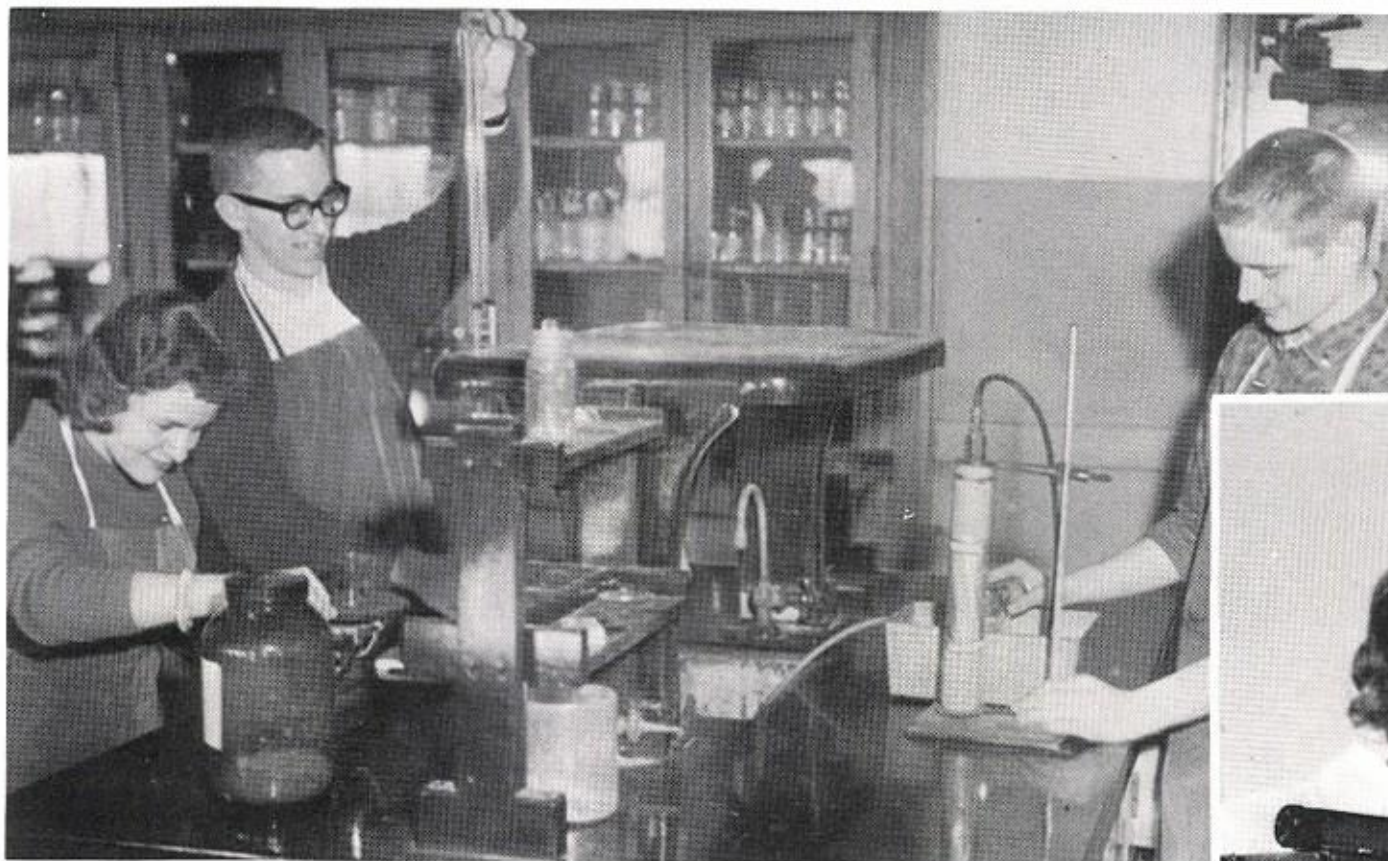

TWO IMPORTANT schools using Topeka High's facilities add immeasurably to the city's educational program, one catering to grades 9-12, the other for adults taking work for credit or avocation in its 150 classes.

More than 800 students were enrolled in the 1959 summer school where courses in English, social studies, typing, biology, and chemistry were offered on both the makeup and go-ahead basis. Teachers were recruited from the THS faculty so that work either continued or supplemented that of the regular school year. The 1960 term is expected to top the 1000-mark with its enrollment.

Over 3500 adults enjoyed the academic, craft, mechanics, and health classes of the Evening School in its two-term program. Thus, the fine physical facilities of Topeka High reach out to the whole community.

Girls' Physical Education—

MUSCLE coordination, physical development, and the pleasurable aspects of active athletic participation are included in the objectives of the girls' Phys Ed program. All girls enroll for one year and combine such sports as soccer, hockey, volleyball, and even football with rhythmic training through gymnastics, including floor work and trampoline. Since the advent of the school swimming pool in 1958, emphasis on water techniques has increased.

Girls interested in wider participation may elect advanced sports when, as juniors, they learn skills in such recreational activities as fencing, tennis, golf, badminton, archery, deck and table tennis, modern dance, and bowling.

The 39-girl Senior Leader program gives those with above-average skills and interests training in leadership and responsibility in handling individual problems as well as classes.

Boys' Physical Education—

Muscles, Minds, Attitudes Control the 'Complete Man'

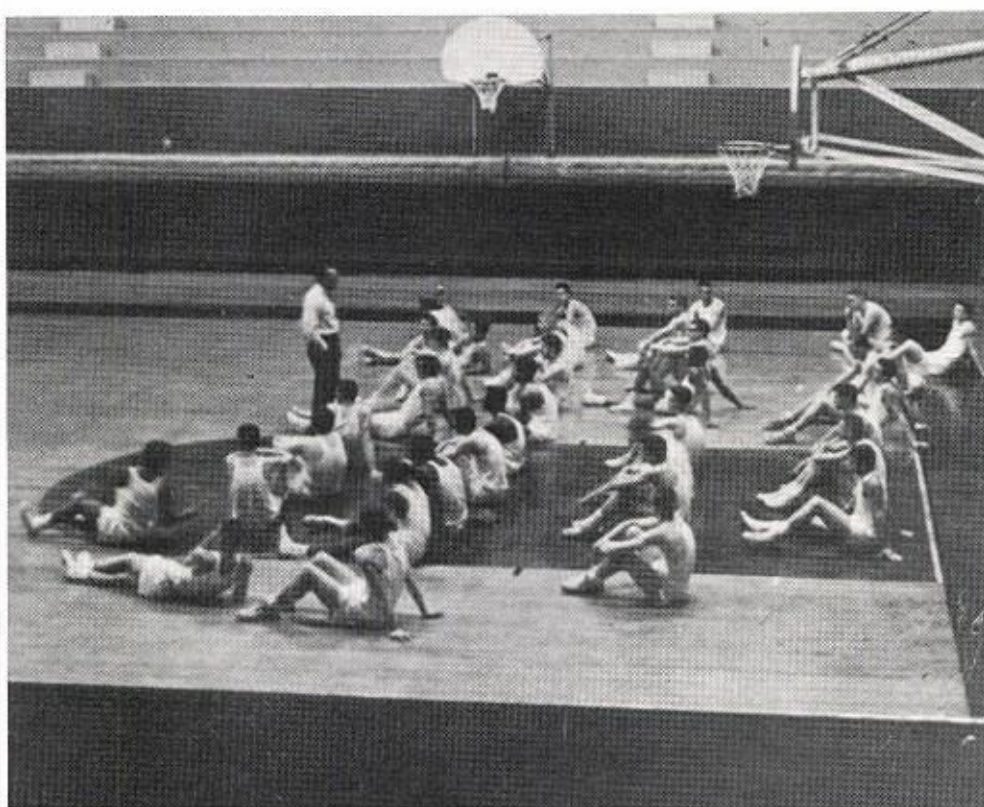

CHIEF AIMS of this department are creation of good sportsmanship and mental and physical development through teamwork and individual skills. Active sports such as touch football, soccer, softball, and track occupied the outdoor season and complemented swimming, wrestling, handball, and gymnastics, which dominated the winter months. A continuation of intramural competition led to the lively development of a series in which many boys participated through homeroom representation.

Much of the Phys Ed program influences careers in teaching and coaching. With this in mind Senior Leaders were encouraged to leadership and responsibility as assistants.

Industrial Arts—

Avocational Courses Give Ideas for Careers, Hobbies

ONE OF the competent THS programs that prepare students for a future of satisfaction and profit is developed through the Industrial Arts Department. Instruction is offered to disclose talent for leisure activities as well as to direct interest in possible vocations.

Many of the courses increase manual art skills and enable the students to continue in preparation for Trade School programs. Others, like Driver Education, stress immediate training for everyday needs.

Among subjects to be elected are Auto Mechanics, Radio, Electricity, Printing, and Machine Shop. A three-year program in Mechanical Drawing is a basic preparation for engineering and architecture. Woodworking may reveal creative talents; and through stagecraft, boys develop abilities in the construction and manipulation of scenery and lighting effects for dramatic productions and assembly sets.

Trade School— Skills Promise Better Jobs

EXCELLENT equipment and well trained instructors combine to offer unusually good vocational training in the Topeka High Trade School. The apprentices and high school students receive valuable mechanical knowledge in such fields as radio and TV, machine shop, photography, electricity, auto mechanics, welding, and printing.

After careful screening, students are enrolled in trade classes during their junior and senior years. The first three hours of each day are spent in regular high school classes; the afternoon is spent in vocational training. Thus, both a high school diploma and a Trade School Certificate are earned.

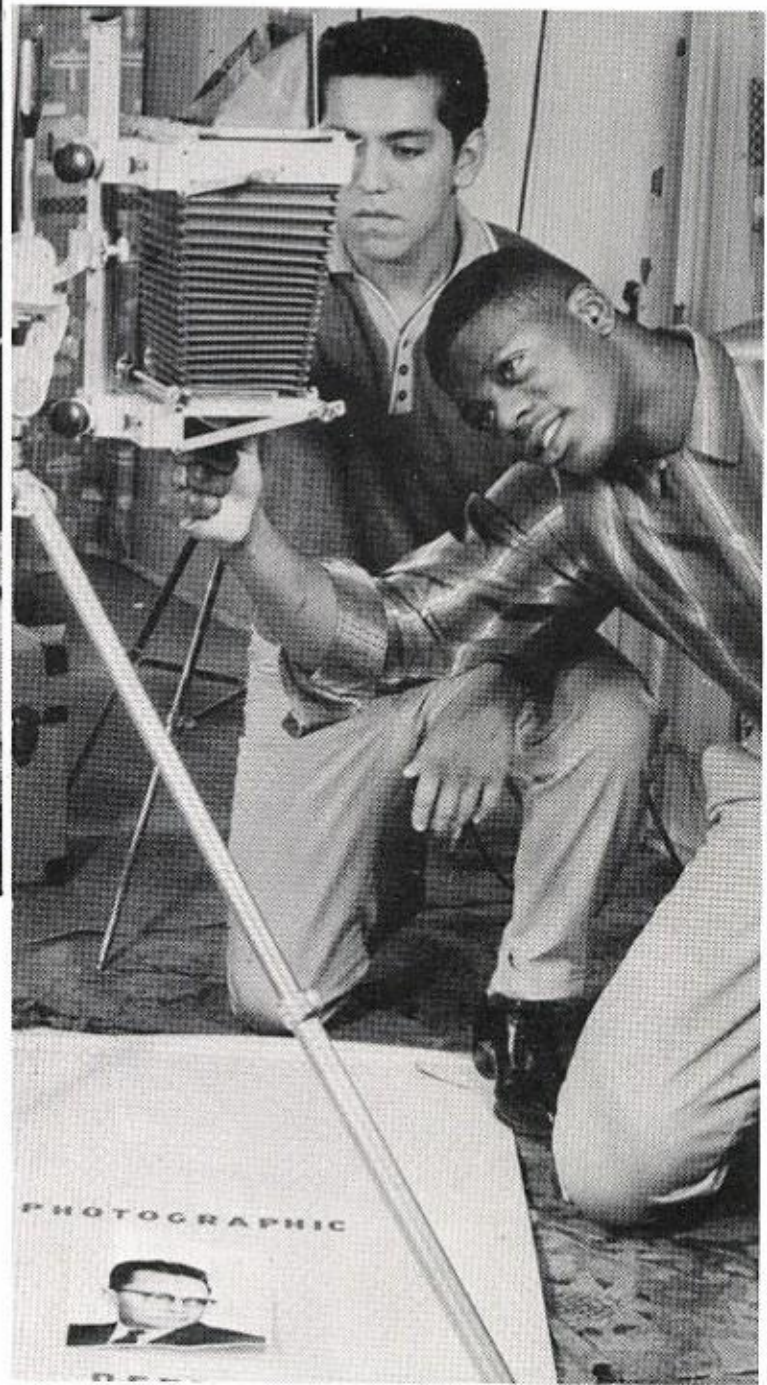

Instructors are experts in their specialized lines and the classes are of a laboratory type. Through this expert guidance, students enrolled in trade classes are given training which qualifies them for jobs in their respective fields immediately after high school.

Proctors—

Hours of Student Help Necessary for Easier Operation

TEACHER proctor Dee Dee Watts records A for absence as well as A for excellence.

INVOLVED in much of the background detail around THS are about two hundred and fifty unsung workers who help make the wheels of Troy's administration and curriculum run with speed and smoothness. Teachers and office personnel put trust in dependable proctors to carry part of their heavy loads of clerical work, filing records, grading papers, and other assorted duties.

While each proctor forfeits his study hall period, he does it knowing that his responsibilities become assets. Thus, proctorships are at a premium and planned for long in advance of enrollment time.

Behind the Scenes—

Competence Makes Things Hum, Tick, or Quiet Down

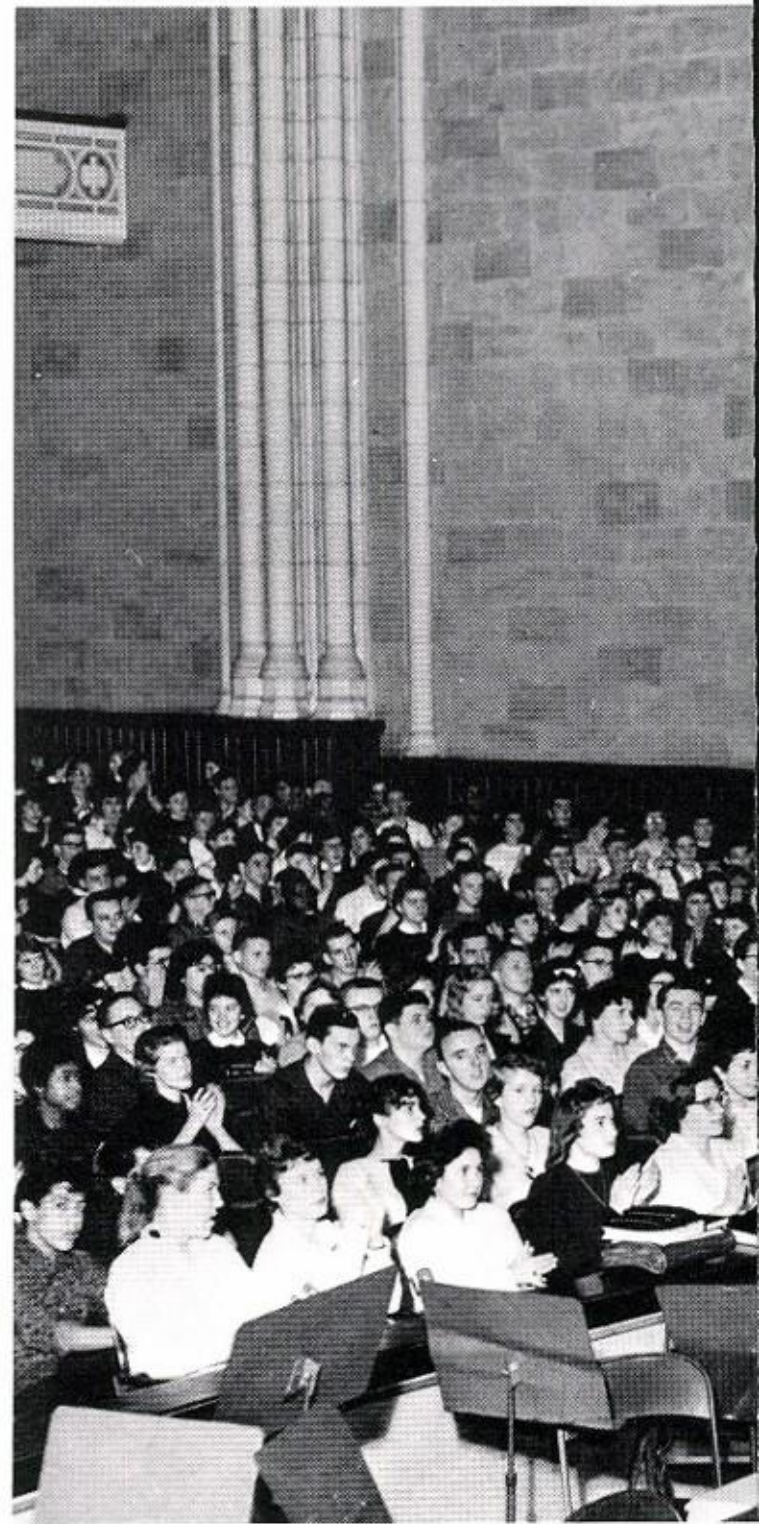

ASSEMBLY LINE cooperation is needed by the staffs of behind-the-scenes workers at THS because they face a great responsibility in the operational details that benefit the 2400 students and faculty members and their friends.

The 18-member cafeteria staff, under Miss Youngquist's supervision, serve nearly 200 meals a year to famished Trojans and their equally food-conscious teachers. Their kitchens are models of immaculate housekeeping and their menus are varied and reasonably priced. Mr. Erwin and his faculty assistants eat in the dining hall and see that the lunch line decorum which Mr. Dilley supervises continues through the long noon hour until the fifth hour bell rings.

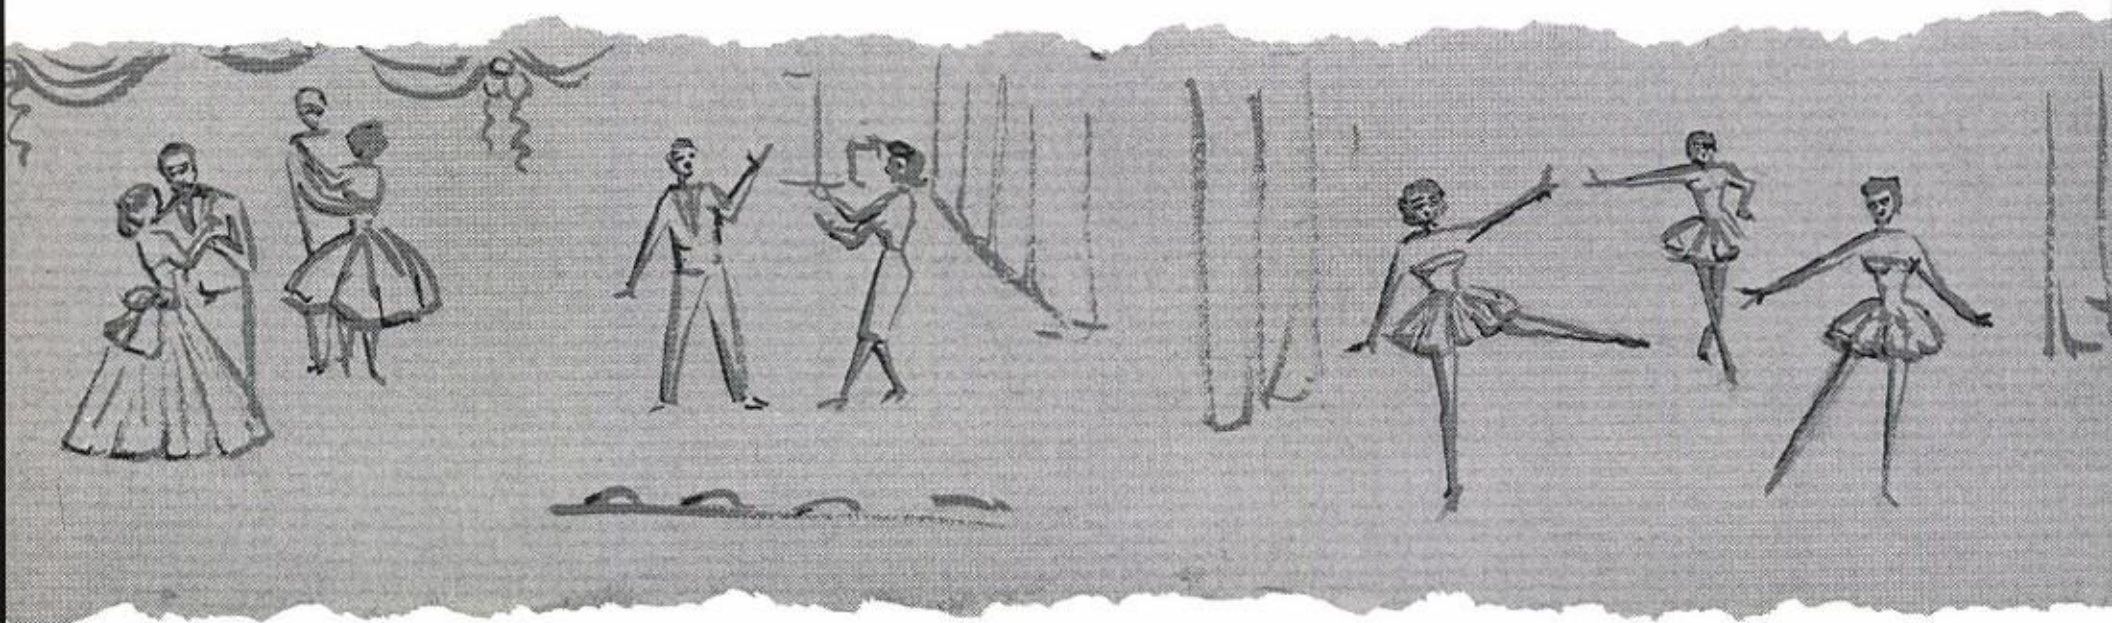

Troy's immensity is perhaps best felt by the 16-member custodial crew whose duties vary from the supervision of building areas during both day and night to shovelling out from under the 20-inch snowfall last March. Trojan litterbugging is probably their greatest bone of contention as the seemingly endless chore of sweeping up, carrying out, and burning rubbish takes up a big measure of their time.

Elections—

Hullabaloo Gets Results;

WITH ENTHUSIASM and high interest, another year at Troy was launched with the annual Election Week. Beginning with the introduction speeches at the Election Rally, the candidates whirled through a fast five days, pinning on hand cards and pleading for poster-carrying and vocal support.

Tenseness mounted a little each day while candidates and voters, alike, felt the pressure of campaigning. Placards filled the halls; the air was charged with earnest and loyal recommendations; and bands, parades, and clever gimmicks were colorful extras. By the end of the week, smiles became strained and cheerful greetings a trifle worn out. It was the end of the "waiting period"—Friday's voting was at hand—The die was cast.

Activities were climaxed with announcements at the Election Dance. Although disappointments as well as successes naturally occurred, there was a noticeably fine spirit shown in the acceptance of the outcome. Then a midnight show at the Grand Theater was the closing gesture of a strenuous week for all Troy.

Student Council—

Keen Minds Apply Democratic Idealism to Government

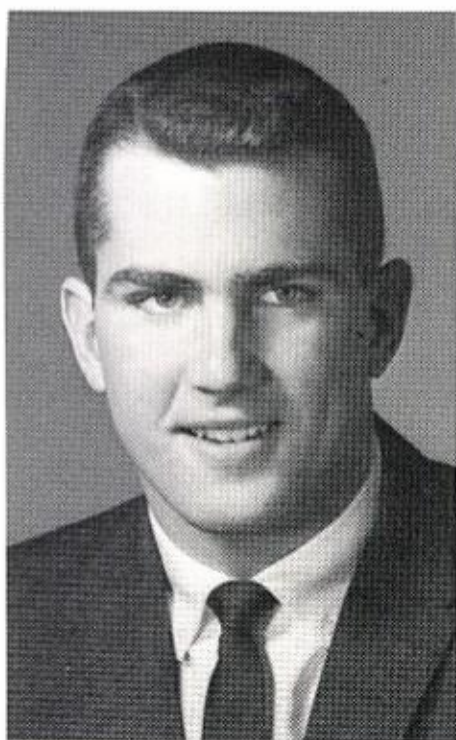

AT 7:45 ON MONDAY mornings, Room 200 resounded to three sharp taps of the gavel—the buzz of conversation subsided and everyone hurried to their seats—another meeting of the THS Student Council was underway. An efficient, hard-working group represented classes and school, and the early hour was alive and humming with projects designed for the school as a whole—projects such as the Officers' Training Course, the All-School Party, the Christmas Post Office, and routine matters.

The biggest issue of the year was the investigation of schools holding spring elections, the concern over both the needs and advantages of THS following suit, and the final decision which will place the school on a new and simplified basis for handling governmental procedures in the future.

Lower House Insures Just Government by 'Vox Pop'

FAIR AND JUST representation." Just as the people of the United States of America are insured this important right through two legislative bodies; so are the students of Troy. The lower house of THS, affectionately called Rep Council, is made up of one delegate from each of the seventy-five homerooms.

Elected in the fall by their respective homerooms, these important members of Troy's governing body met every Tuesday morning to discuss old problems and tackle new ones. Taking the issues back to homerooms, for consideration, Rep Council was able to listen to the real voice of student opinion.

The Speaker of the House led Rep Council in managing Homecoming and Queen of Courts procedures. Other projects included the inauguration of an Honor Code and the revision of election rules.

The "Reps" found themselves doing everything from selling activity tickets to promoting Sunflower sales and AFS Tag Day. As large as this body was, the Reps united during the year to work together for the good of all.

Senior Councils—

Elected Groups Extend Hand of Friendship, Courtesy

TROJAN hospitality and friendliness has been personified for a number of years by two councils, each representing their respective senior homerooms. At Sophomore Induction, at Parents' Night, and at Open House they were initiated into the official host duties that were to be theirs for their final year at Troy. Soon after the opening of school, the girls entertained at a coke party and made special efforts to introduce the sophomore girls into school activities and to help them find their proper niche in school life "in the Shadow of the Tower."

The councils combined their efforts in handling two of the seniors' most important and prophetic events, the measuring for caps and gowns and the sale of graduation announcements. Thus, in their special roles as Troy-Janes and Troy-Joes, members and their alternates became close-knit groups; and "students accept responsibilities in proportion to responsibilities as the year closes they appear to bear out the theory that ties resting on their shoulders."

Tours—

Trojans Satisfy Yearnings To See, To Learn, To Travel

FAR AWAY places and interesting experiences seemed to come close to many THS students through travels on both personal and sponsored trips. Bob Dolgoff's competition in Extemporaneous Speech at Miami; Kathy Clifton's and Louise French's tour as Y-Teen delegates to New York; Jack Miller's representation of 4-H Clubs in New Orleans and Chicago; and Polly Palmer's week at the Student Council Training Camp in Colorado brought active Trojans in touch with national youth groups.

Many juniors and seniors traded a week in the class room for a crowded seven days in the East on the Kansas Council on World Affairs Tour last spring.

Added to these the weekend and vacation travels of many students, Trojans appear to be learning first hand about the Wide, Wide World, and the Glories of America.

Girls', Boys' State—

Tomorrow's Citizens Gather for Political Experiences

FUTURE Politicos Gather To Express Oratorical and Leadership Talents" read last summer's headlines as Kansas Girls' State convened at Lawrence, and Kansas boys gathered at their June pow-wow in Wichita.

Delegates were high school juniors, scholastically qualified, who had deep interest in the workings of government both in front of and behind the scenes. Activities of city, state, and national government were planned to scale, and both elected officers and their political constituents "kept the wheels turning." Party membership, caucuses, campaigns, elections, and performance of duty made up the fast-paced sessions of both groups.

Participants and sponsors both verified the contention that the annual event was worthwhile. Friendships garnered over the busy days remained as valued ones, and young Kansans returned to their respective schools last fall to enter into student government with unlimited spirit.

For the first time, representatives were sent to schools in other countries. Bob Dolgoff returned from France in January, bringing home certificates of scholastic recognition. Nancy Dittmore sailed for New Zealand in February, and when she returns next fall she will add first-hand news of the youth "down under."

In the third phase of the program, Jon Ekdahl's summer in Europe gleaned for him and the school many fine aspects of an intelligent and workable plan for a One World Tomorrow.

'Your Show'—

Warm Welcome Greets Return of Popular Talent Show

BATON twirler Linda Cole.

INTRODUCING NEW FACES as well as the more familiar ones, and developing new stars for productions of the future, Your Show was presented to the entire student body in an October assembly. Having been absent from the Trojan stage for two years because of scheduling difficulties, it received enthusiastic support on both sides of the footlights.

Your Show was originated during the 1951-52 school year in an effort to uncover some of the hidden talent of the more than two thousand students. Mrs. Esther Kingman as sponsor, and three representatives from each class managed the program; and from the moment the curtain rose everyone felt that a new Trojan tradition had been born. For five years its popularity grew steadily and its permanence is now assured.

This year's production featured acts ranging from international culture to good old American Rock 'n Roll with more than fifty students participating.

Assemblies—

Variety Balances Scales for Everyone's Satisfaction

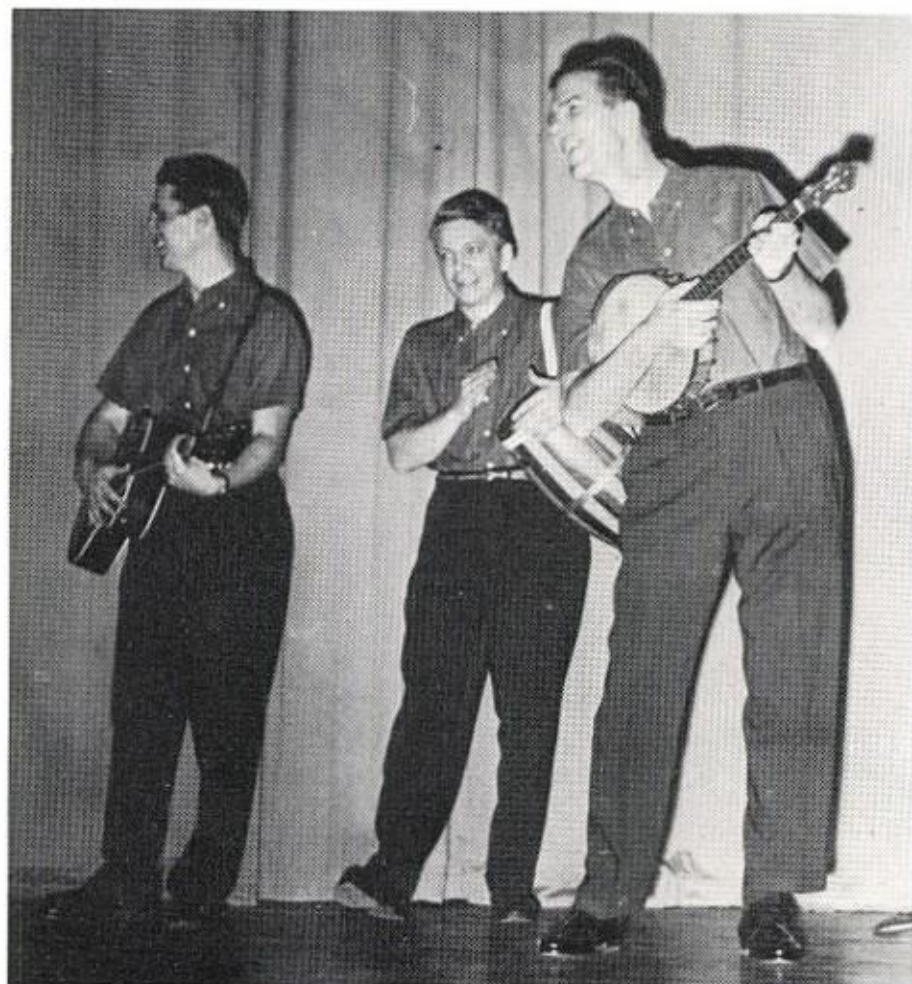

IS THERE an assembly today?" is the typical Friday morning question prior to the bulletin reading. The tone of the whole day is set when the answer is "Yes." Trojan assemblies stressed a variety in both imported and student talent, and they were frequently the means of developing and directing interest toward sports, debate, elections, and civic enlightenment.

Traditional assemblies introduced queen candidates, AFS fund raising, fashion shows, and point awards, all being as much a part of the school year as classes and homework.

Perhaps the most popular with the greatest number were the student music concerts. Moods were set by rollicking tunes, plaintive songs, and full-bodied orchestrations. Fun, foolishness, inspiration, and education all made the year's assemblies memorable to both participants and audience.

School's Traditional Recordings Demand Total Effort

WORKING ceaselessly to meet four eighty-page deadlines, the 1960 yearbook staff aimed at perfection within a tight schedule. Responsibilities were tackled with energy toward the goal of a competent production, "the best coverage possible."

Editor Covert devoted much of her time to coordinating efforts. Stimulated by last year's All American citation, she put forth extra energy to raise standards even higher. The promotional campaign exceeded expectations, and many senior homeroom advisers will receive autographed copies of The SUNFLOWER because of high sales records.

Time, energy, talent, and devotion to school traditions were reflected by staff members determined to record with both accuracy and sentiment the treasured memories of the seniors' "Wonderful Year", a year that opened a new decade—1960.

World Staff—

Hard Work and Tuned-in Minds Write Success Story

THROUGH wide coverage of school and related activities, Troy's newspaper staff published weekly issues filled with timely news and features. As reporters with "noses for news" searched to answer the basic questions of who, what, where, when, why, and how, stories and pictures were cut or cropped, ads were sold and drawn up, and editorials were written—all done as neophyte journalists reached for another "W", the "Wow" of real news. In addition to the editorial and business fields, boys in vocational printing did composition and page makeup, thus giving opportunities for students to explore many areas of the publishing field before planning careers or finding part-time jobs.

Although staffers sometimes suffered momentary embarrassment at overlooked errors or a fellow-student's complaint that "I didn't get MY paper today," even those were thrilling moments, proving that The WORLD was important to its readers, a success story at best.

Cadets—

First To Come, Last To Leave; Stamina Wins Approval

WORKING with no thought of award except the personal pleasure of "being in, on the ground floor" at school-sponsored events, cadets took on one of the most responsible jobs at THS, that of being official "greeters." Wherever Trojan supporters gathered, their businesslike but friendly attitude set the pace for the entertainment to follow. Dependability and willingness to work were the only requirements exacted from the able crews who appeared first on the scenes at Moore Bowl, at the Western Avenue Entrance, or in the foyer at Hoehner Auditorium.

Dressed in semi-formal attire at the plays, in Pep Club uniforms at the basketball games, or bundled from head to toe at the football field, they punched activity cards and manned the doors. Claustrophobia had no terrors for others as they sat on high stools in tiny cubicles and handled both tickets and cash box with accuracy. "Service with a smile"—that was the watchword of loyal Trojan Cadets.

Library Club—

Book Interest Is Personal, School-wide, World-wide

AS THE LIBRARY is a focal point of school life, so the Library Club works as a student group to promote its growth. A new club to THS, it has matured and expanded in its related activities because the members' interests are centered around books and their use and meaning in both school and adult life.

The state convention last spring was an enjoyable and educational experience where career librarians and student assistants had opportunities to share interests. Projects for the year included a "Used Book" Fair in April from which proceeds were used to buy books and writing materials for a deserving school in Hong Kong. Social highlight was the "breakfast-banquet" where administrators and sponsors honored the library proctors and presented awards.

Young, yet busy, the club serves a two-fold purpose: it proves to its members that books are an important part of daily life, and it aids the student body in awareness that "Books are Windows."

'Mr. Roberts'—

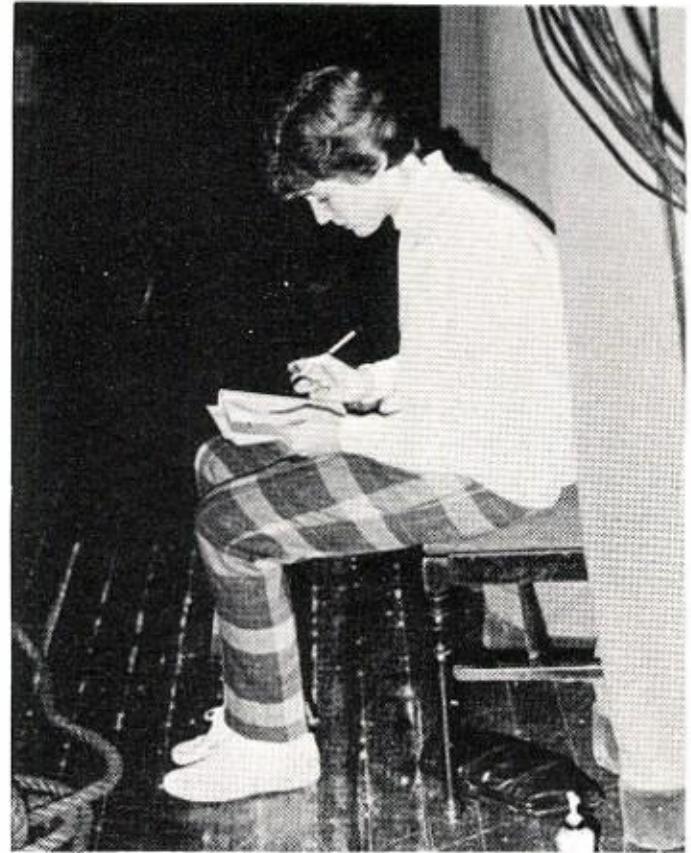

Boys Take Over in Riotous Saga of Life on the Sea

FROM THE MOMENT the curtain opened until it closed on Mr. Roberts, Hagen and Logan's successful navy comedy, the audience was caught up in the variety of emotions.

Attention was usually centered on Mr. Roberts, cargo commander for a toilet paper and toothpaste transport ship during World War II. Loved by the sailors because of his never-ending loyalty to them, hated by the captain because of his attempts to be transferred into battle, Mr. Roberts, as a man, was an unforgettable character.

The October 17th performance drew a record crowd, due in part to the unusual distribution of character parts. In the cast was one lovely female sailor nurse to balance a whole shipload of assorted male personnel. The production proved a major accomplishment for both cast and staffs. Costuming and atmosphere were authentic, from bunk beds and hand-rails to dog tags and a goat that nearly stole the show in dress rehearsals as she became everybody's pet.

'Laura'—

Beautiful Woman Challenge

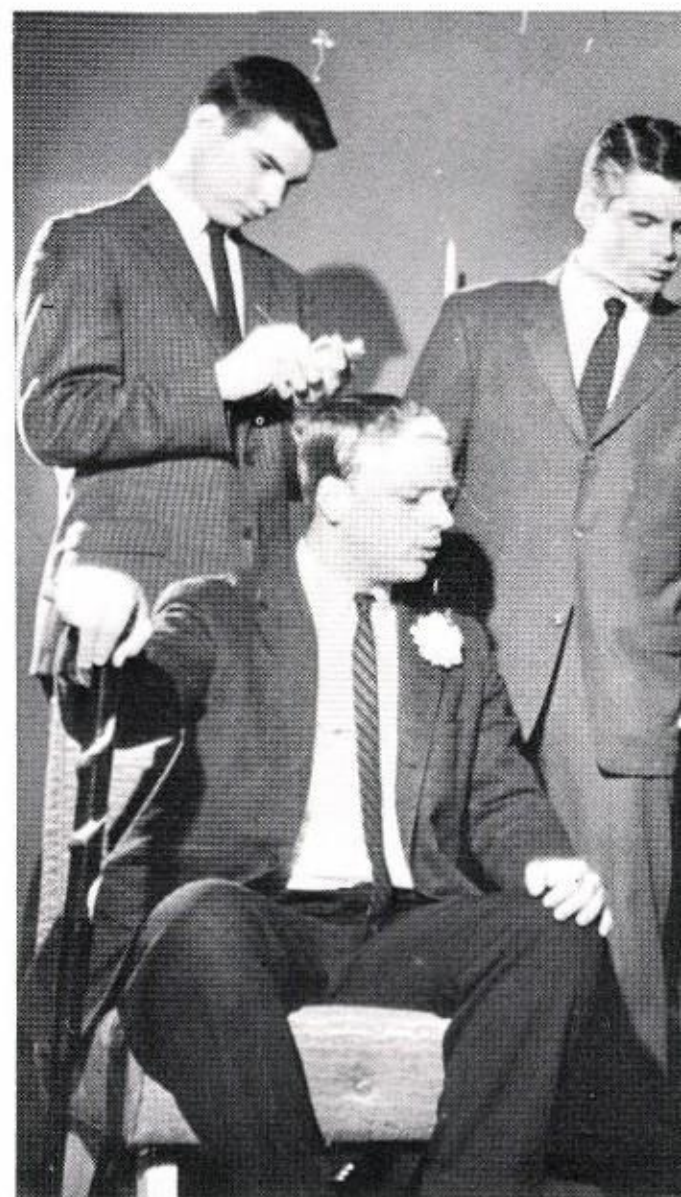

A MISSING SHOTGUN, a cynical old man, a determined investigator, and a beautiful woman were all interwoven into the dramatic play, Laura, sponsored by the Senior Class December 5. The audience was caught up in a web of uncertainty until the final episode disclosed the identity of both the killer and the victim.

Laura—charming, headstrong, ambitious—nothing stood in her way. Waldo—strong, sarcastic, outwardly vicious—even he loved Laura, his own creation. Detective McPherson, who called her “a dame”, found himself falling more madly in love with Laura every minute.

A tightly wound plot, the need for the real dramatic acting, and overtones of psychotic disturbances made Troy's production of Laura a challenge to high school students' talents in acting, directing, and coaching.

'Oklahoma!'—

Music, Love Sweep in Like Clean Winds Across Plains

A MASTERPIECE of music and drama came to the Trojan Stage February 5 and 6, when the THS music department presented Rogers' and Hammerstein's famous and well-loved operetta, "Oklahoma!"

The setting was the Oklahoma territory blazing forth in all the glory of the pre-statehood days. Period costuming and effective stage sets gave added color to the well known musical numbers.

"People Will Say We're In Love," sung by sweet Laurey and handsome Curly, introduced the audience to the adoring pair. Their joy was clouded only by Jud, a farmhand who forced his attentions on Laurey. A companion love story appeared when vivacious Ado Annie had to make the choice between Ali Hakim, who claimed to be a Persian peddler, and her wholesome cowboy admirer, Will Parker.

The story followed the lovers through troubles and hilarious situations with favorites, "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning," "Surrey With the Fringe on Top," "Poor Jud," and the climax, "Oklahoma!"

With happy endings for both couples in the final scenes, the story finished, as it had begun, in perfect form. The applause from the two enthusiastic sell-out audiences was enough to confirm its success.

"HUSH, you birds, my baby's a-sleepin' . . ."
and Laurey's head rests on Curly's shoulder.

EYE SHADOW, lip paint, facial tissues—Director Fly checks the make-up before the matinee. Julie Green, Miss Herrick, Mrs. Focht, Mike Wilson.

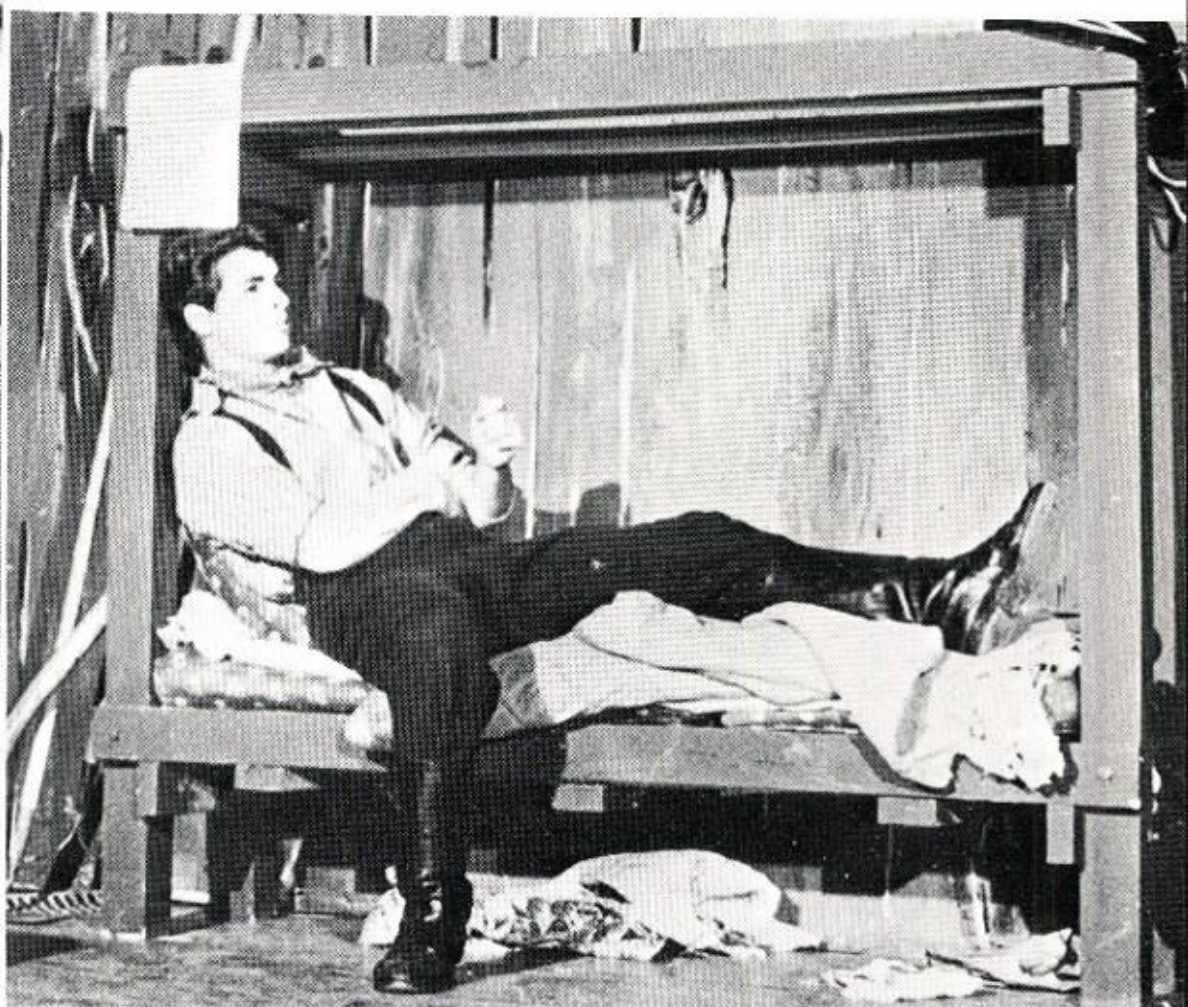

THE PEDDLER tells Aunt Eller that he has "some purties fer to show." Ado Annie is simply fascinated.

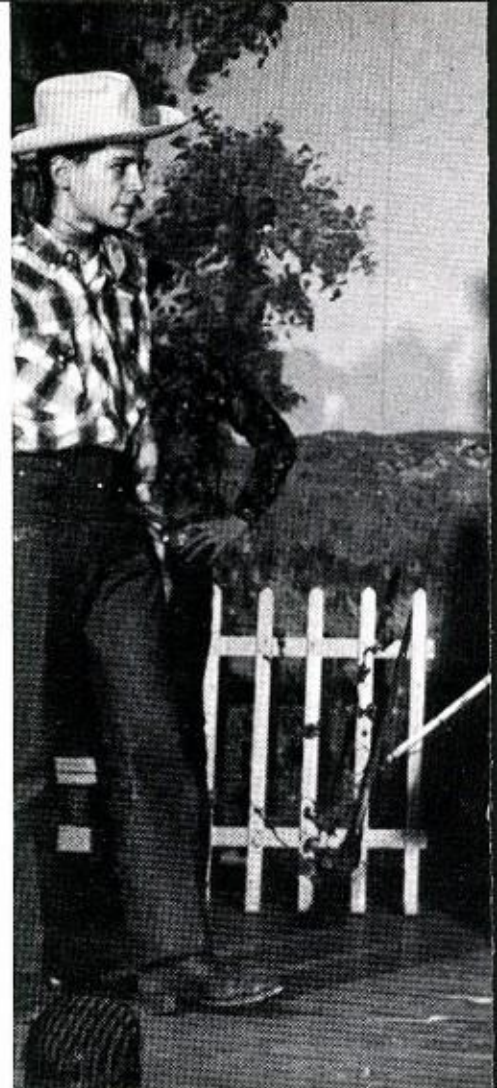

"I BOUGHT it in Kansas City"—Will shows the boys a tricky new invention.

ALONE in his lonely room, Jud laments his lot in life.

"MANY a new day will dawn, . . . Many a red sun will set," sings sweet Laurey with her friends. Dressed in the simple gingham of the day, they are a charming group.

All-School Party—

Fun, Frolic Mark Troy's Annual 'Night to Remember'

FANTASY, SPLENDOR, and beauty combined on the night of the 1959 All-School Party when the evening's enchantment began with the delightful Birds' Christmas Carol given in Hoehner Auditorium. The spectators drifted with little Carol through her dreams of her fairy tale friends singing their sweet songs.

When the curtain lowered all eyes turned, as in the spotlight's glare, the royal couples swept down the center aisle, and the crowning ceremony was both beautifully and festively accomplished. Queen George in her pale tulle gown and King Mike in traditional black and white were charmingly regal.

Trojans were received by the Royal Couple and attendants in the gayly decorated cafeteria and then danced to the fine band music of "The Counts" there and in the elaborately converted gymnasium.

Sponsored by the Student Council, the annual affair was definitely the high point of social life as the THS holiday season officially arrived.

THREE Kittens purred through their song.

"A LITTLE more! There!" Wendell Smith directs Barbara Davis' placement of a front hall window display.

WITH THRIVING ambitions and piercing outlooks toward the future, members welcomed new information in various fields of science research. Demonstrations, lectures, and movies on subjects from bacteria to rotary motion made interesting meetings.

Field trips appeared regularly on the calendar of activities, including ones to the State Board of Agriculture and the Cereal Laboratories. Bus loads of members visited K.U. and K-State on the Universities' special Science Days. Interest sparked last year inspired a tour through the Linda Hall Science Library and the Midwest Research Center in Kansas City.

Highlight of the club's activities was the Topeka Science Fair, April 23-24, for which members prepared complicated projects which challenged both minds and imaginations. An event of city-wide interest, it stimulated keen competition and developed penetrative explorations into science fields.

Chess Club—

'Sh——People Working' Creates Relaxed Atmosphere

A CLUB meeting where it is so quiet that one can "hear a chessman click his heels," is typical of Troy's most unusual organization. Interest has climbed rapidly in the popular ancient game in which such medieval terms as gambits, kings, queens, knights, bishops, pawns, and rooks combine with "openings," "Blacks-Whites," "defense," "attacks," and "checkmate!"

Competition was touched off during the winter by tournament play among Trojans who displayed mathematical turns of mind and found the challenge of planned strategy a fascination.

“PROMOTION of scholarship in, and the enjoyment and understanding of mathematics among high school and junior college students” is the purpose of Troy’s newly chartered Mu Alpha Theta. Founded in 1957, there are 445 clubs in 48 states in schools where mathematics is heavily stressed. Topeka High has long offered its minimum requirements in accredited courses.

Programs have centered around interesting mathematical aspects that are proving increasingly important in today’s educational trends to meet today’s demands.

Language Clubs—

Informality Expands Interests Beyond Classroom Level

ESPAÑOL, Français, et Latinus. Through interest stimulated by imaginative, resourceful committee members, Troy's language clubs have enjoyed a flourishing year, giving unlimited opportunities for students to practice informal conversation and to apply classroom techniques in a relaxed atmosphere. Each group held its own specialized entertainment, but the French Club-sponsored Mardi Gras brought all together in a spirit of traditional pageantry and rollicking abandon.

Latin Club's emphasis on classic practices of antiquity highlighted the fall initiation. Spanish Club received a strong boost when three young visitors from Mexico City brought authenticity to several programs; and a trip to La Siesta for "hot" and tasty native dishes promises to set a custom. French Club, with Miss Hopkins' "touch of the Sorbonne", held an elaborate holiday party complete with games, carols, fun, and refreshments. The more than one hundred tri-club members attest both the satisfaction and long-range value of becoming language-conscious in a narrowing world.

THE APPLE cutting ceremony climaxes Latin Club's fall initiation. Carol Steele, Richard Virr, and Linda McCall initiate Phyllis Lautz, Jody Huffman, Mary Ellen Winterburg.

A SWEET way to make money. Sally Francis, Linda Kerbs, Sylvia Nottingham, Linda Wheeler, Kathy Covert, Liz Fink.

TOMORROW'S neophyte journalists at THS viewed many common interests through membership in the international organization, Quill and Scroll. An active, closely-knit honorary group, it encouraged career interests and promoted good journalistic practices through the varied activities involved in producing the two major Trojan publications, the yearbook and the newspaper.

Sales of candy and plastic textbook and yearbook covers furnished enough profit to purchase additional photographic equipment and reference books for the journalism department.

Highlight of the year was the tri-school initiation at K.U., sponsored by the William Allen White School of Journalism and Public Information. The bus ride, the dinner, and the sharing of friendships with those of similar interests proved the worth of the "pursuit of truth" and the cultivation of a "nose for news."

The chief purpose is to promote growth and interest in all high school dramatics, to continue the tradition of the theatre, and to reward worthwhile work behind scenes, before the footlights, or in directing.

The May initiation dinner and its program was an event that combined good food, hearty laughter, and clever skits with a review of the year's accomplishments and the star awards.

Key Club—

Service, Civic Conscience Stimulate Club's Purpose

DEVELOPMENT in good citizenry and community leadership were the staunch aims of the Kiwanis-sponsored Key Club. Inter-relations between the business and professional men of the city and Trojan boys had far-reaching effects in career planning and community awareness and understanding.

Service to the school was done through two publications, the handbook and the telephone directory. Boys sold ads, arranged sales and deliveries, and earmarked profits for worthwhile causes. The mid-winter March of Dimes fund was aided by the sale of the popular Kingston Trio records.

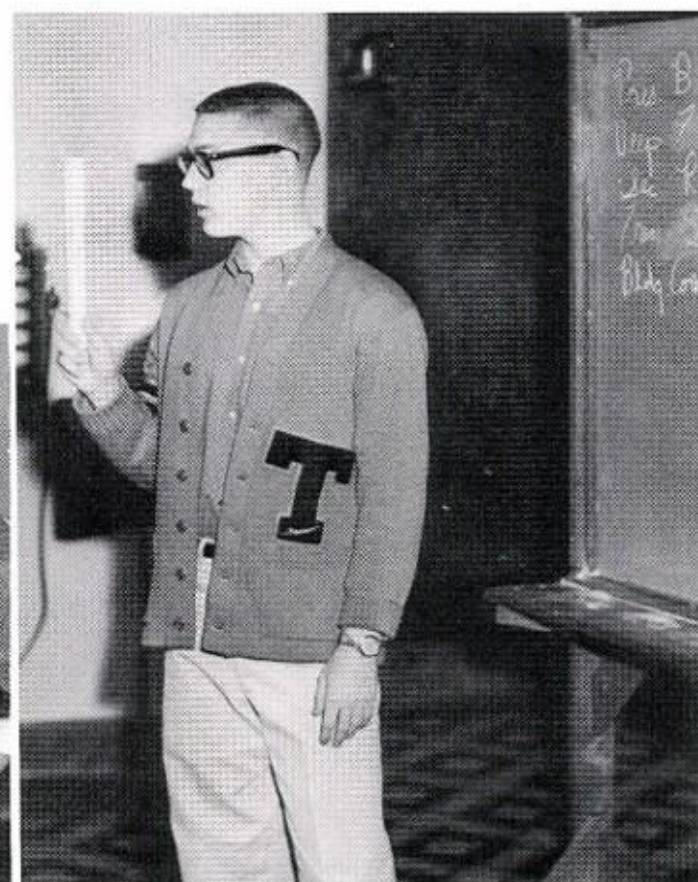

Not to omit social relationships, the annual fall hayrack ride provided a lively evening for both members and guests. State offices were held by Terry Smith and Jon Ekdahl who were key planners for the March conclave in Hutchinson where Mary Newman was Troy's candidate for Queen.

THE FAMILIAR red cross is an American Symbol of giving. Both adult and youth members give of their time, abilities, and services in an effort to further the work of the world-wide organization. Whether selling mums at the Homecoming games, caroling at hospitals, or helping out on chapter house projects, Troy's council and members showed the same drive and good will for which the parent organization is known.

During fourth hour throughout the year, several girls donated their time doing canteen service at the nearby headquarters. For Thanksgiving, baskets of food were filled for needy families. On Veterans Day, students in the main hall stepped aside while President Pete Barham placed a wreath on the memorial plaque. DEDICATED to understanding others' needs as well as their own, Y-Teens worked for enjoyment in unselfish service. Philanthropic projects were stressed and emphasis placed on the teenagers' outlook on life. At the regular meetings at the YWCA, programs highlighted such perennially interesting subjects as good grooming, tasteful and economical wardrobes, party giving, dating, and the controversial one of "going steady."

Louise French and Kathy Clifton represented Topeka at the National Y-Teens Congress in New York last fall, and made use of the new outlooks they developed by bringing to the other members a deeper realization of the club's motto: "To grow as a person; To grow in the friendship of others; To grow and live in the knowledge of God."

Hi-Y—

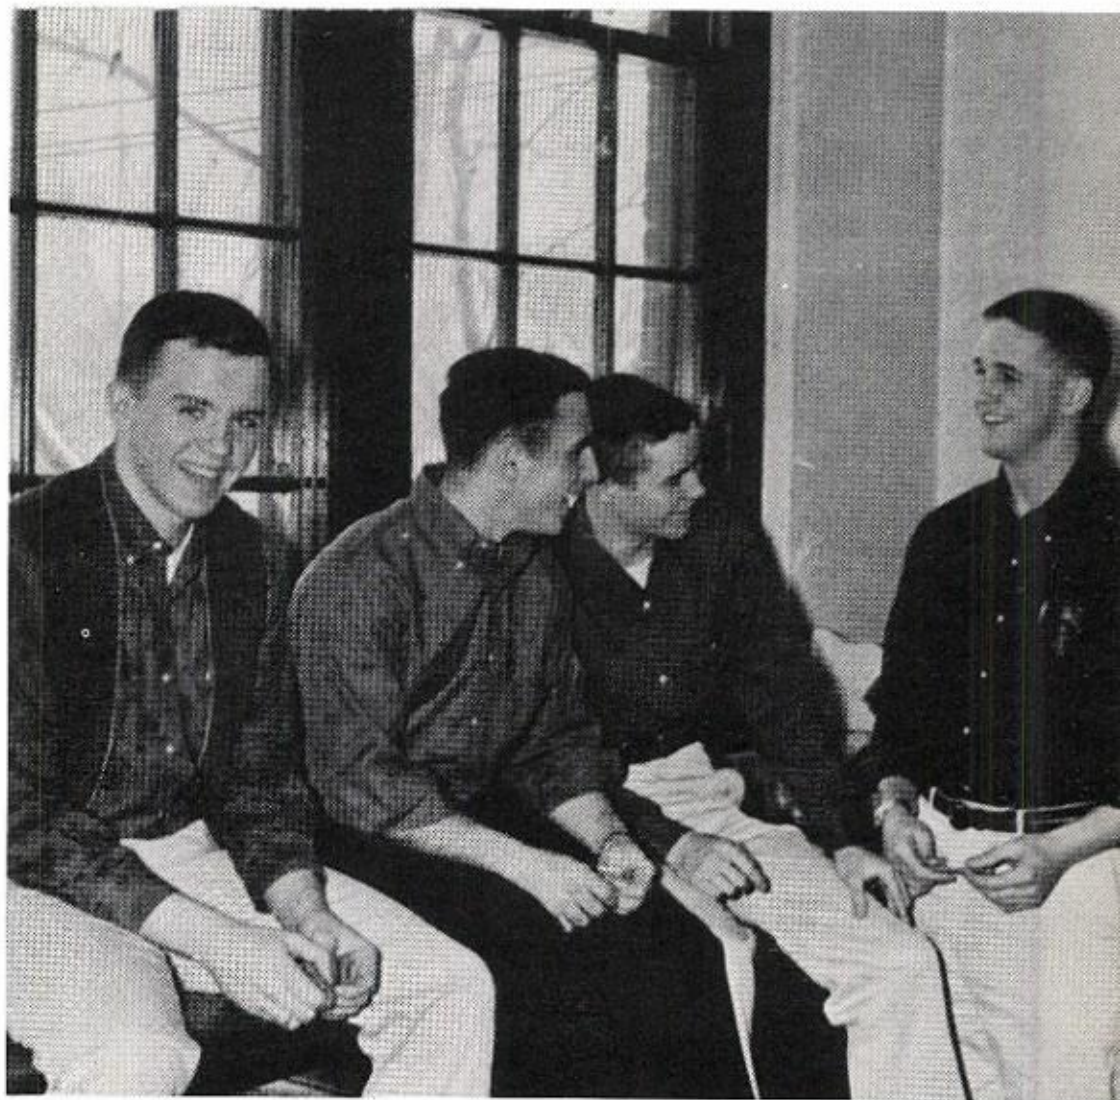

Group Recognizes Others' Needs; Makes Efforts Count

SERVICE, better understanding, cooperation, and promotion of fellowship were the goals that strengthened this Christian organization. A program highlight was emphasis on traffic safety and the efforts of the city's police department to eliminate vice problems and drug addiction by better public education. Time was also spent on writing bills to be presented to the Kansas Hi-Y Model Legislature this spring.

Camp Hammond, YMCA camp for grade school boys, offered a fine chance for civic service when Troy's Hi-Y furnished two counsellors weekly for the recreational area. Climax of the activities was the annual "over-night", fitting award in fun and fellowship for a year of service to school and community.

The organization was introduced to THS several years ago, and has shown that students have a sincere and sustained interest in its purpose. There are no dues, and membership is not solicited. The doors are always open to those who need God and show a willingness to serve Him, the only requirements to belong.

Outside speakers, films, and talks by members keynoted the Tuesday morning meetings in Room 306 where a new piano accompanied the singing. Youth for Christ tries to live up to its name; a club working for Christ and expecting nothing in return except the warm glow of faith.

Sound Business Practices Lead to Progress in Careers

POTENTIAL leaders in commercial fields have opportunities at THS to learn good practices through tri-club participation. Troy's branch of the Business Education Clubs of Kansas is divided into two sections so that highly specialized interests can be explored. Meetings include speakers and demonstrations, highlighted by the annual state contests.

Newest of the trio of clubs is a chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America, a group whose purpose is to stimulate "strong, aggressive leadership among tomorrow's business men and women."

THAT homemaking is the happy combination of all the attributes of feminine maturity, was the basic challenge of Trohoma, the THS chapter of the Future Homemakers of America. Through speakers, demonstrations, and service and social activities, members stressed the emotional importance of family relations and home management as well as the niceties of tasteful decorating, attractive flower arrangements, and proper table settings. Career-homemakers introduced the possibilities and satisfactions of combining the two fields closest to every girl's heart. They also realized the satisfaction of helping others by filling a Thanksgiving basket and supplying a Christmas program for St. Vincent's orphanage.

Sponsored by the Women's Medical Auxiliary, the club assisted in staffing the Stormont-Vail Hospitality Shop on Saturdays, and frequently supplied proctors for special tests administered by Troy's official medico, Nurse Boon.

Future Teachers—

Desire, Needs Key to Careers

FROM GAINING to giving knowledge—Future Teachers worked to fulfill this personal goal as they enjoyed interesting, informative programs presented at weekly club meetings. Topeka High's Dewitt Clinton chapter of FTA was fortunate to have speakers who were established educators, student teachers, or members of the profession who had attained outstanding accomplishments and were willing to share experiences with them.

Members served as hostesses for the annual Kansas State Teachers convention in November. They benefited from special programs put on by various colleges to attract the students to teaching fields. Thus grew a desire to serve children and young people in an area with an increasing need for those who are dedicated to both learning and humanity, a field wide open with promise.

AN ESTABLISHED success in its second year of organization, Squid Club stands in the fore as an unique and specialized group of talented girls. Members combined recreation with improvement of swimming and water ballet skills, and gave added stimulus to a sport in which ability, grace, and coordination are uppermost.

Club members were classified according to accomplishments, and newcomers rated as "Tadpoles" until proficiency and stamina put them in a class of "near mermaids." Activities of the year culminated in the annual water show where talent was displayed in a ballet based on the theme of "Color." AS A LEADER in Kansas' youth safe-driving programs, Troy has completed a second year in the "driver's seat" at the state convention held in April at Wichita. A three-year-old club, its spectacular national impact has leveled off into steady but effective plugging of two famous taglines, "Slow Down and Live" and "Safety on the Highways." Activities included assistance in city-wide traffic safety promotion and continued backing of the Topeka Youth Court which "tries" all teenage speed violation cases coming under the jurisdiction of Judge Newton Vickers.

Club Recognizes 25th Anniversary of Topeka Tourney

AS A FOCAL point for its 1959-60 endeavors, NFL explored the club's annals for news, views, and records of teams and individuals that have piled up impressive statistics for Topeka High's debate program. The league's sponsoring of the Trojan Debate Tournament over a span of a quarter of a century appears to be a record in itself, since it is the oldest in the state. At this year's tourney, members of the winning team of 25 years ago were special guests at the first general meeting of debaters and sponsors. Club members handled all phases of the popular event from invitations, room reservations, the purchasing of trophies, and program plans to the training of judges, the selection of timekeepers, and most important, the scheduling and tabulating of results.

In April the Trojan club was host to the second annual Sunflower League dinner-meeting with more than 200 members and parents from Washington, Wyandotte, the two Shawnee Mission high schools as guests. League letters and NFL awards were made to a large group from the participating schools.

SPORTS are the highlight of most high schools, and lettermen are the main contributors. Thus, T-Club is synonymous with "lettermen" at Topeka High, for only after being so recognized can an athlete become a member and wear the coveted black letters and numerals on gold sweaters.

Aside from its interest in athletics, T-Club entertained the coaches at a banquet, took dates on the annual hayrack ride, and raised money by operating the basketball concession stand. Proceeds were earmarked for athletic improvements, bought personalized stationery for the coaches, paid for chartered busses to tournaments, and added donations to numerous school projects.

Cheerleaders—

'Ready-O, Let's Go!' Lifts School Spirit

WITH TIRELESS energy and constant good humor, the A and B-Team pepsters promoted school spirit as they bounced through dozens of assemblies, pep rallies, parades, and halftime events. Their continued high standards of precision, conduct, and enthusiasm did much to bring Troy's sportsmanship and backing of all school-sponsored affairs to a high level.

A-Team members attended a summer clinic at Dallas where they learned new techniques and ideas. A district clinic at Troy in the fall gave added training under H. L. Herkimer, "Mr. Cheerleader, himself".

These twelve girls have acted as "ambassadors without portfolio" to the student body, the area's schools, and the community at large.

WITH ENTHUSIASM ENOUGH for all the student body, and with the promotion of school spirit in all departments as their aim, the several hundred Pep Club members played a major role in Trojan affairs within and without the Halls of Troy. Every game day found the main foyer crowded with girls "signing in," their black and gold and white uniforms coloring the aspect of the whole weekend. In addition to being in their assigned seats at flag ceremonies, they sponsored an assembly and a varsity, and arranged for busses to out-of-town games. In a philanthropic mood they managed the "Hong Kong Project" in which they sent clothing and school supplies to a missionary teacher in China.

Go-Getters Launch Athletic Year in High Gear

NO ORGANIZATION can function without the necessary spark to ignite it; such is the position of Boys' Pep at Topeka High—they serve to touch off the great volume of noise and enthusiastic cheering that is a desirable adjunct to athletic competition. Unlike Troy's girls' clubs with their established organization and traditions, Boys' Pep enjoys spontaneous bursts of activity which add a measure of excitement to pep rallies and cheering sections, sometimes with unpredictable fervor and unexpected results.

Last fall's membership drive closed with a large recruitment, and the enthusiasm of the officers has made the present club the nucleus for healthy student backing of Trojan sports events.

Energy was harnessed through many channels: new songs and cheers, a Homecoming float, assembly participation, boy "cheerleaders", the sponsorship of a varsity, and aid in defraying costs of bus transportation. Although only recently revitalized, Boys' Pep shows that it has the ingredients needed for rounding out school spirit and rounding up its backers.

ANOTHER FIRST. Gridmen Hawver and Starbuck start a tradition as they plunge through the paper Trojan head.

Rolls Up 6-3 Record

TROY'S GRIDMEN, under new head coach Larry Reid, more than doubled the total number of wins that the Trojan team compiled last season. The Black and Gold rolled up a 6-3 record while playing one of the toughest schedules in the state. Coach Reid's eleven dropped games to top-ranked Lawrence, defending Sunflower League champion Wyandotte, and Wichita East.

Although losing All-State End Mike Starbuck, the prospects for next year are bright. With the passing arm of John Pat Atkinson and the fine running ability of Dave Crandall, Steve Ward, and Larry Woolridge, the Trojans can look forward to another fine year of football.

Opening the season at home, the Trojans played host to the Highland Park Scotties. Converting a blocked punt into a touchdown, Topeka scored the game's only touchdown with three minutes left in the first quarter and went on to edge the Scotties, 6-0.

COMING TO LIFE in the second half with three touchdowns, Topeka downed Shawnee Mission North 20-6 at Moore Bowl. With the score 0-0 at the end of the first half, the Trojans roared back with one touchdown in the third period and two more in the fourth quarter.

Journeying to Lawrence the next week, the Trojans lost their first game of the season to mythical state champion, Lawrence. On an already soggy field, made even worse by a steady drizzle, the Lions rolled past Topeka 21-0 in a lopsided game. Later Topeka coach Larry Reid protested the use of mud cleats by Lawrence; although his accusations were confirmed, no action was taken.

Before a large Homecoming crowd the Trojans scored one of their most impressive victories in posting a 33-6 win over Washington. Topeka unleashed a furious scoring attack in the middle two periods. Ripping through the Washington line, the gridmen dominated every phase.

PUNTER John Atkinson gets the ball away with the aid of a block by end Mike Shinn. Topeka used both punt and quick kick to advantage.

TRAVELING to Wichita, the Trojans upset top-rated Wichita Southeast, 20-0. Troy first scored when Jim Britt plunged over from the one in the second period. Late in the fourth quarter, Sparky Patterson slammed over from the two, capping a 53-yard march. Minutes later Patterson scored again. Snagging a Golden Buffalo pass, he raced fifty-five yards for the final tally.

The next week the Trojans moved to Kansas City where they met up with a brilliant running display by Wyandotte's quarterback, Don Beal. Scoring all of the Bulldogs' four touchdowns, three on runs of over sixty yards, Beal stymied all of the Trojan's attempts to get back in the game. Topeka's 28-14 loss to Wyandotte dashed all hopes for the Sunflower League crown for 1959.

Promising Season Ahead

TOPEKA clinched second place in the Sunflower League by defeating Shawnee Mission East, 44-14, in Kansas City. The Trojans scored twice in the first half on runs of thirty and forty yards. With the tally 24-14 going into the last period, Troy scored three times in the last five minutes to end a Lancer rally.

Playing in bitter cold, the gridmen dropped their third game of the season to Wichita East, 14-7. Topeka's only score came on a thirty-three-yard run by John Atkinson.

Topeka finally overcame Hayden's jinx in the final game of the season. After trailing 7-12 at the half, the Trojans ground out two marches, relying on "up the middle" plays behind their husky line to upend the Wildcats, 20-12. The gridmen held Hayden to seventy-three yards for the whole game and permitted no first downs the second half.

Subs Exhibit Signs of Grid Potential

ALTHOUGH their 2-4 record did not show it, the Trojan 'B'-Teamers proved that with a lot of desire and stick-to-it-iveness, a well balanced and thoroughly effective ball club can be produced. Coached by Mel Velleme, the B's defeated only two teams on their tough six game schedule. They ran over Highland Park 19-0 and followed in the footsteps of the varsity by soundly trouncing Washington 39-0. With the experience they gained this year, the B-Team members should be counted on to play an important part in rounding-out next years squad.

The Topeka High Sophomores, coached by Mr. Chet Davenport, rolled up a 5-3 record. In doing this they downed Washington 28-6, Highland Park 21-7, Shawnee Mission North 26-0, Atchison-B 6-0, and Seaman-B 18-13. The twenty-three man squad, although appearing very ragged in their first drills, soon began looking like a fine nucleus on which to build future teams. In the past seven seasons the sophomores have compiled a great record of thirty-five wins against only six losses, and have a ten win, four loss record against Sunflower League foes for the same period of time.

Homecoming—

Activities Crowd Hours with Thrills, High Spirits

LONG ANTICIPATED, Troy's 1959 Homecoming festivities began on October 9 with the traditional pep rally and royalty presentation during which Trojan spirits soared. The entire student body took unconcealed interest in the trio of lovely candidates because they had, through their homerooms, chosen one as Homecoming Queen. As they came down the aisle in the spotlight's glare, they and their escorts became the bright symbols of the pageantry of school loyalty.

Following Jim Park's serenade, the couples proceeded to three shiny new, waiting convertibles, where defying the chill air with their warm smiles, they led the parade down Topeka's "Main Street." Close behind was the band, then the marching pep clubs, and finally the elaborate floats, all emphasizing one blaring idea, "Beat the Wildcats!"

Queen Martha and her court ruled over the varsity which followed the game, and with due formality, received autographed footballs as mementos of one of Troy's "most shining hours."

SMILING, regal, gracious. Newly-crowned Queen Martha and her attendants, Linda Meinerhagen and Gayla Hastings, face their subjects.

Radiating happiness, the trio were introduced to the excited crowd as they approached the grandstand in bright '60 convertibles.

Escorted by Jon Ekdahl and Kirby Deeter were the attendants, Linda Meinershagen and Gayla Hastings, dressed in chic fall suits. The air had the fragrance of burning leaves and the moment seemed electric.

Then her Majesty, on the arm of Terry Smith, followed through the guard of honor and up the steps to her throne. Lights dimmed, and the soft notes of "If I Loved You" drifted over the stadium. Voices were stilled as Superintendent Godwin placed the treasured crown on the fair hair of Martha Blaisdell, Topeka High's 1959 Homecoming Queen.

Basketball—

Cagers Win Trip to State in Comeback

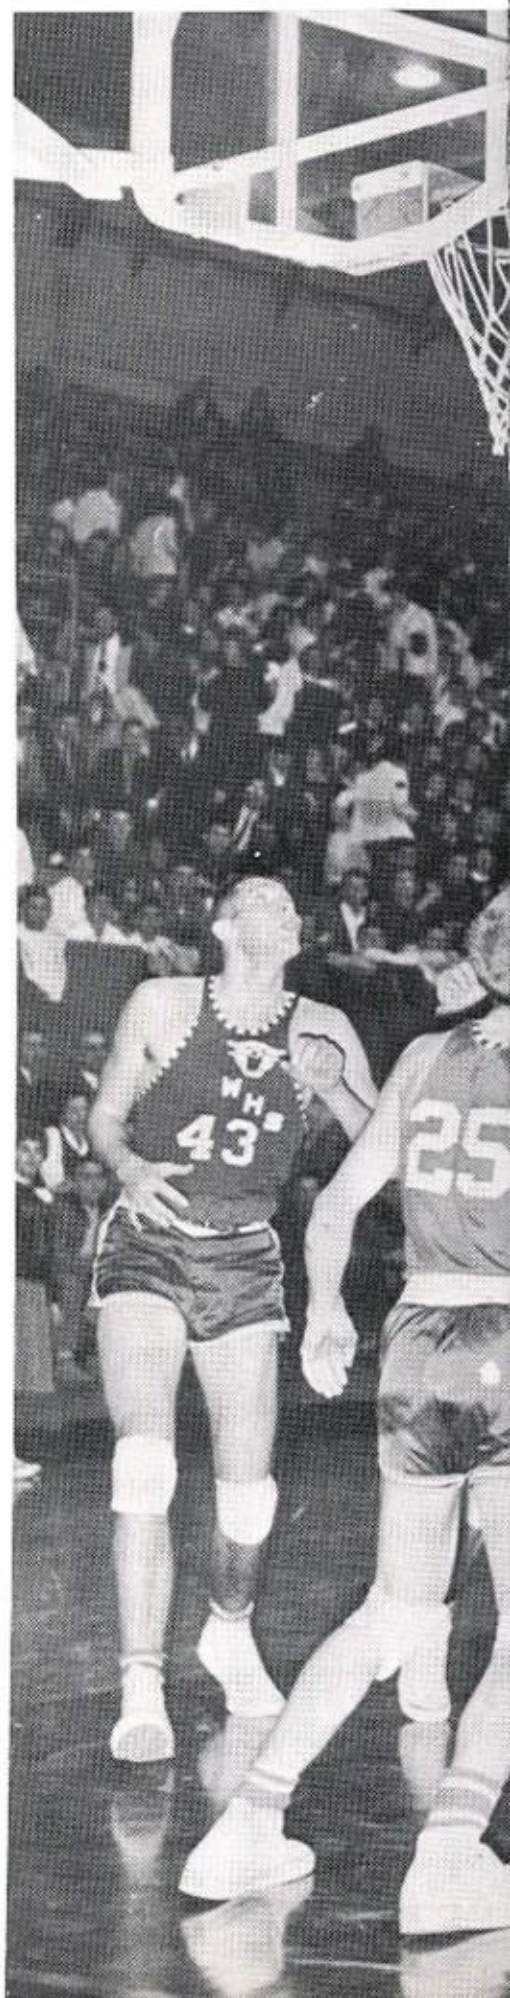

AN INCONSISTENT Topeka High basketball team got off to a rather weak start as they won alternate games until a third of the season was completed when they lost consecutively to Lawrence and Wyandotte. The Trojan cagers then put together a three-game winning streak as they beat Washington and Highland Park; and in an upset, they downed Shawnee Mission East 58-56. But Troy's inconsistency once again showed up as they were toppled by inter-city rival Hayden before a capacity-plus crowd, and then went on to whip Mission North the next weekend.

The roundballers then managed to win two out of their last six contests to finish the season with an 8-10 record. The Trojans were expected to do no better than fourth in the regional tournament, but after overpowering Leavenworth in the opener, the THS cagers looked like a completely different five as they upset Hayden and Atchison for the title.

In the state tourney at Wichita, the Deanmen appeared to be on the way to their fourth straight victory when a last second shot by the Wichita North Redskins smashed their hopes as the Redmen won, 46-45.

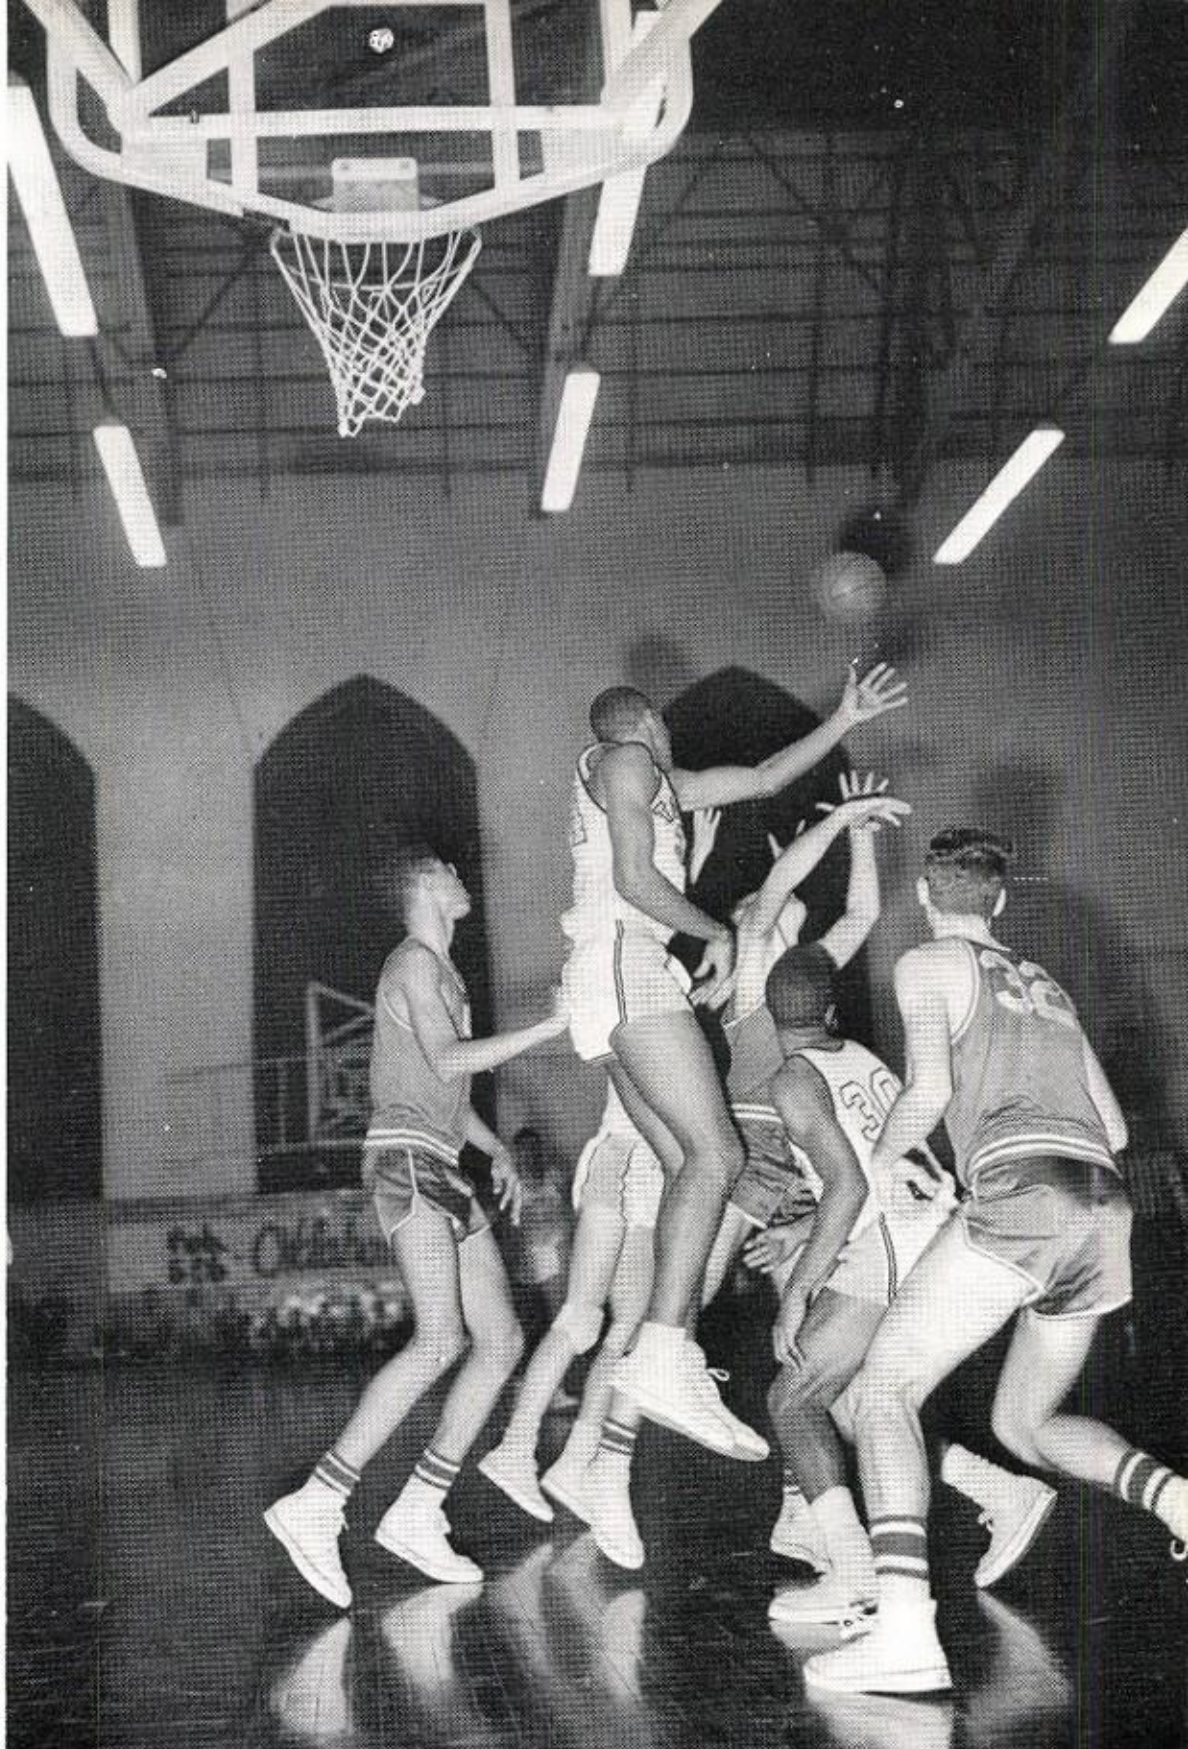

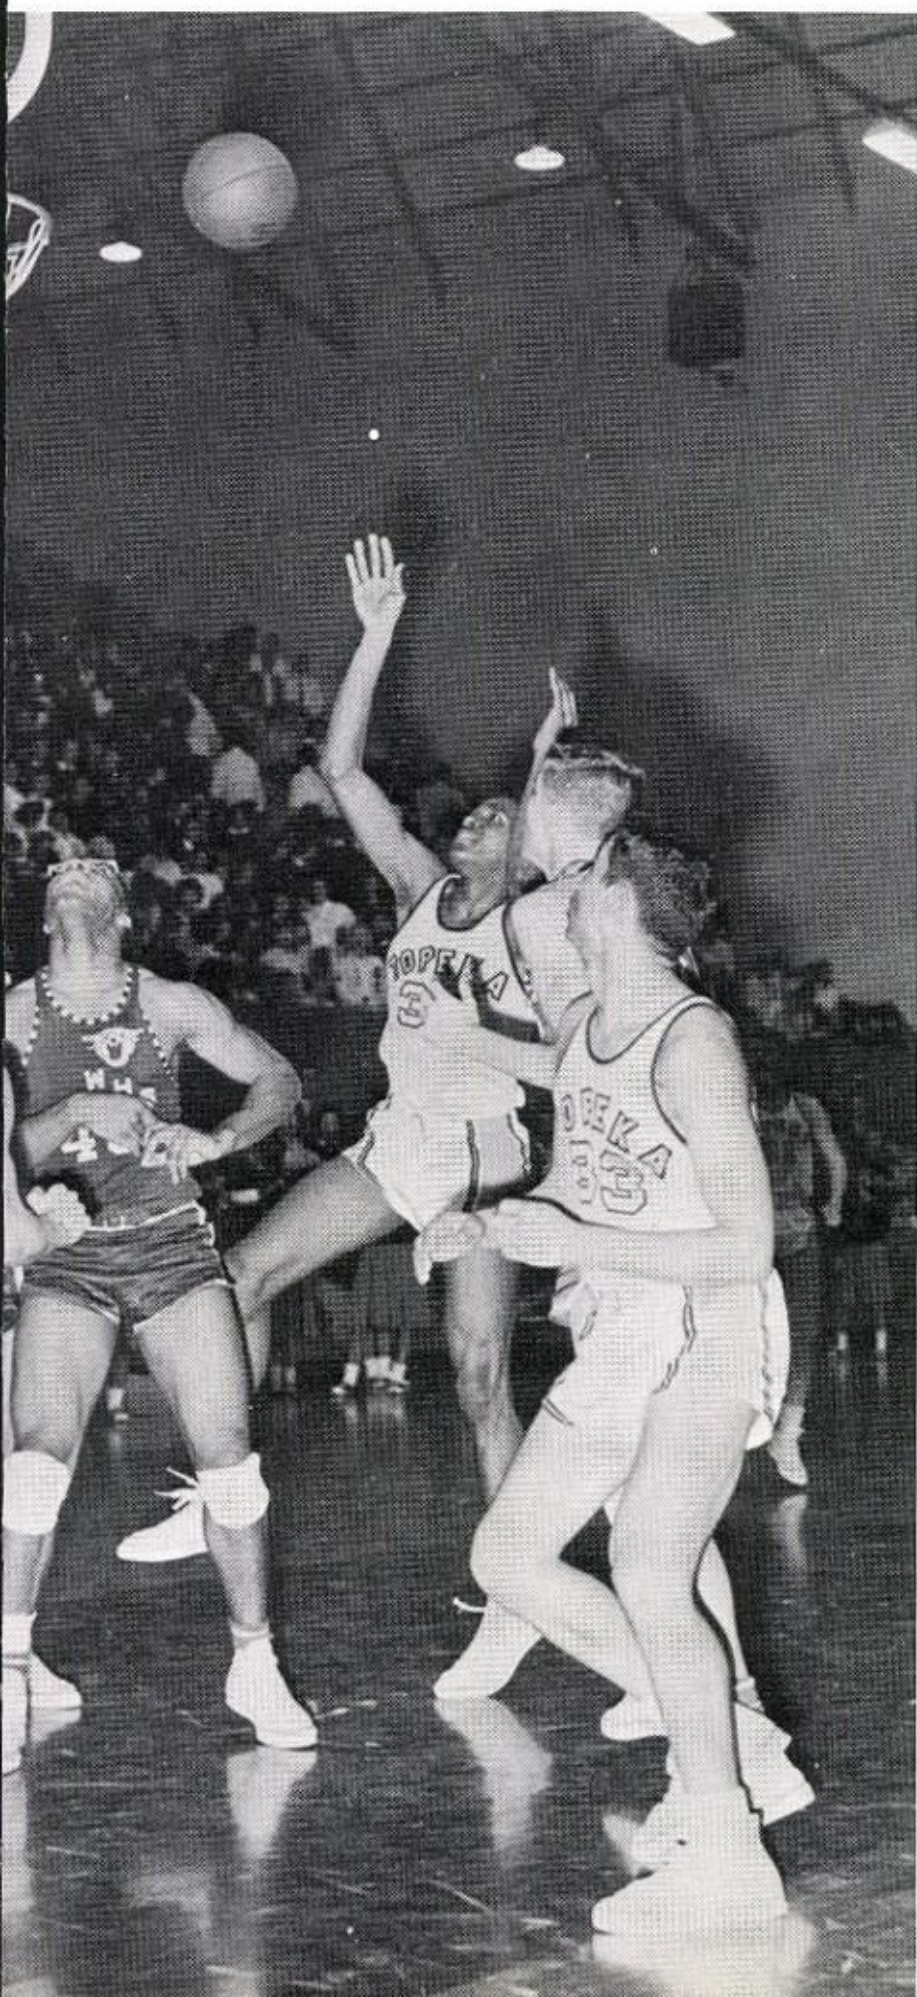

With only two lettermen returning, Coach Dean's hopes for a winning season next year rest heavily on this year's sophomore and B-Team members.

Subs Determine Future Record

ALTHOUGH sporting a 7-9 record for the season, the Bees did better than the scoreboard indicates. Of the nine games lost, four were dropped by only five points or less. With many of the subs playing in varsity as well as in B-Team games, next year's squad should have the advantage of some very experienced players.

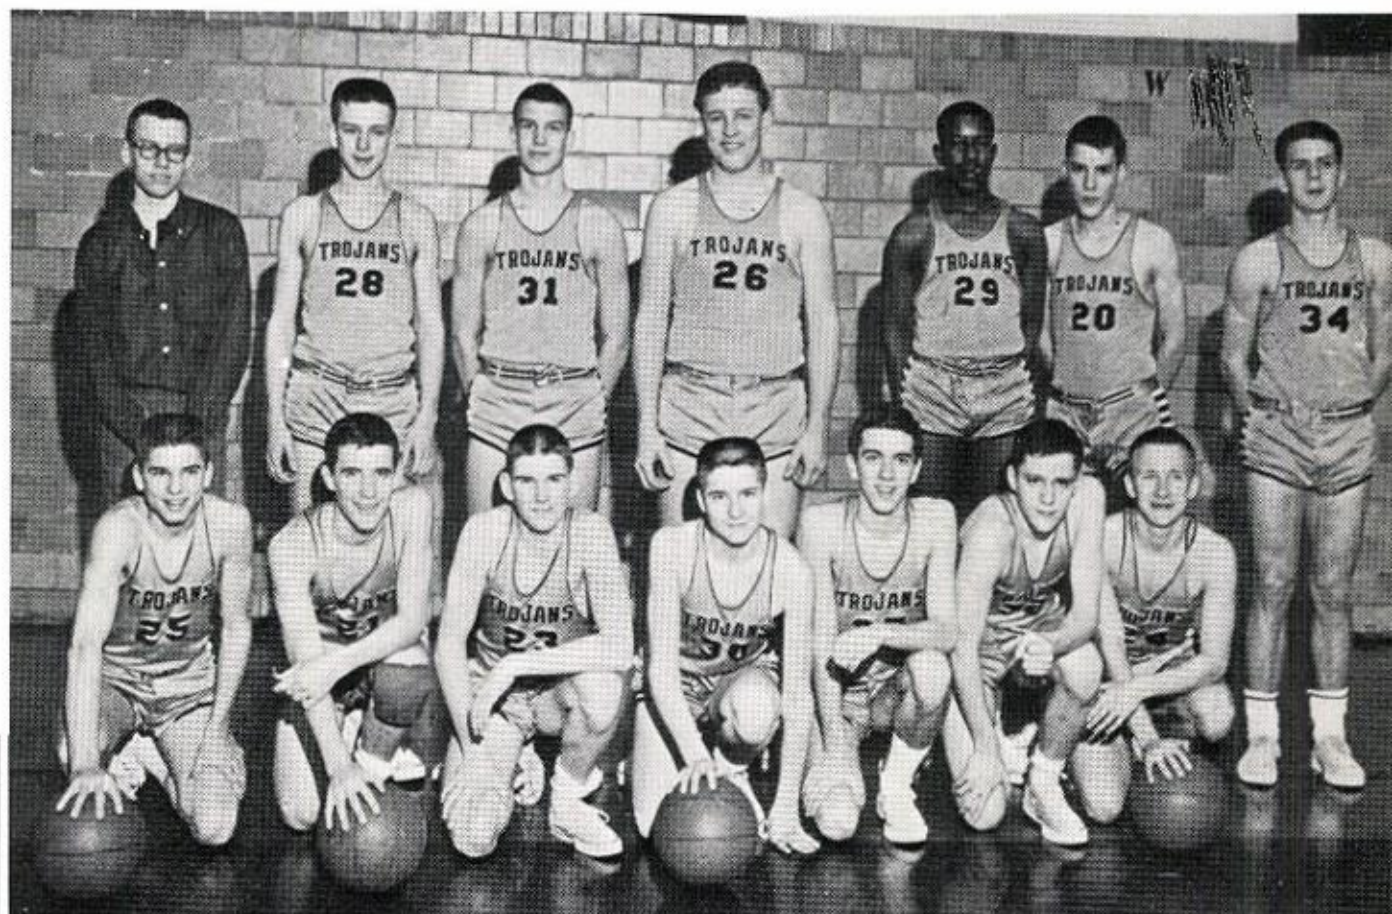

The sophomore team, coached by Chet Davenport, had one of the toughest years on record as it managed to win only two games in ten starts. While neither of the secondary teams posted winning records for the season, the know-how gained will aid varsity coach Jack Dean in building a fine squad for the 1960-61 season.

Basketball—

Hearts and Flowers Are Perfect Foil for Sports Event

A MEMORABLE moment for Trojans was the disclosure of their choice and the crowning of their lovely Queen of Courts, February 12, with its accompanying fanfare.

Festivities began with an afternoon assembly sponsored by Rep Council, with all-school talent presenting "The Court of Trojania." Three charming candidates, nominated by the basketball players for the honor, were each presented to the court as a possible future Queen; but the decision to announce a reigning monarch was postponed until the evening's ceremonies.

During the game's halftime, attendants Janet Dawson and Betsy Greer, escorted by Carl Johnson and Terry Smith, proceeded through Honor Pep's heart-shaped formation and ascended the dais. Then Her Majesty took her place, and her escort, Dick Bickerstaff, stepped aside to permit Governor George Docking to crown winsome Queen Polly Palmer.

Entertaining talent and gaiety followed at the varsity where the royalty received autographed basketballs and continued a brilliant reign. As one of Topeka High's most impressive traditions, Queen of Courts—1960 will hold a special place among Troy's Souvenirs.

Cross Country— Harriers Hold Pace; Look to 1960

DESPITE A THIN turnout for the Cross Country squad this year, Coach "Heavy" Erwin managed to whip his few eager harriers into what promises to be a veteran team when the 1960 season gets under way.

Senior co-captain, Carl Price, led the squad consistently, but was closely followed by juniors Howard Woodson and co-captain Bob Wright. With three of the eight lettermen returning, the prospects for the future look much better than past records.

"Cross country running is gaining in popularity among the schools of eastern Kansas," stated Coach Erwin. "Four of the first five teams in the state are from our northeast area. If Topeka expects to keep pace with other Kansas schools, more boys will have to participate in the program." The determined spirit of the coach has apparently spread to the squad, and the newly kindled enthusiasm should put Topeka right up in the running in 1960.

Returning lettermen will be Bob Wright, Jim Oliver, and Leonard Lewis. They will have the assistance of a number of wiry B-Team runners who displayed budding talents.

Swimming—

Tankers Lose Only Once During Record-Breaking Season

ONCE again the THS swimmers have turned in another winning record in running up a 17-1 mark for the season. Behind the able coaching of Chet Laney, who finished his fourth year as swimming mentor, the tankers downed all of their opponents except Wichita East. Meeting the defending state champions in the second meet of the season, the Trojan finmen lost by only one point in a thrilling finish, 48-47 at Wichita in mid-December.

In the Sunflower League Meet held in Topeka, the swimmers gained their first league title by running up a staggering 67-point margin between them and second-place finishers, Wyandotte and Shawnee Mission East. It was in the league meet that the Trojan 160-yard freestyle relay team broke the existing national high school mark, and senior Co-captain Pete Barham missed the national record in the 40-yard freestyle by four-tenths of a second.

With a nucleus of eleven junior lettermen to build around next year, Coach Laney seems to be in for another record breaking season of the popular sport.

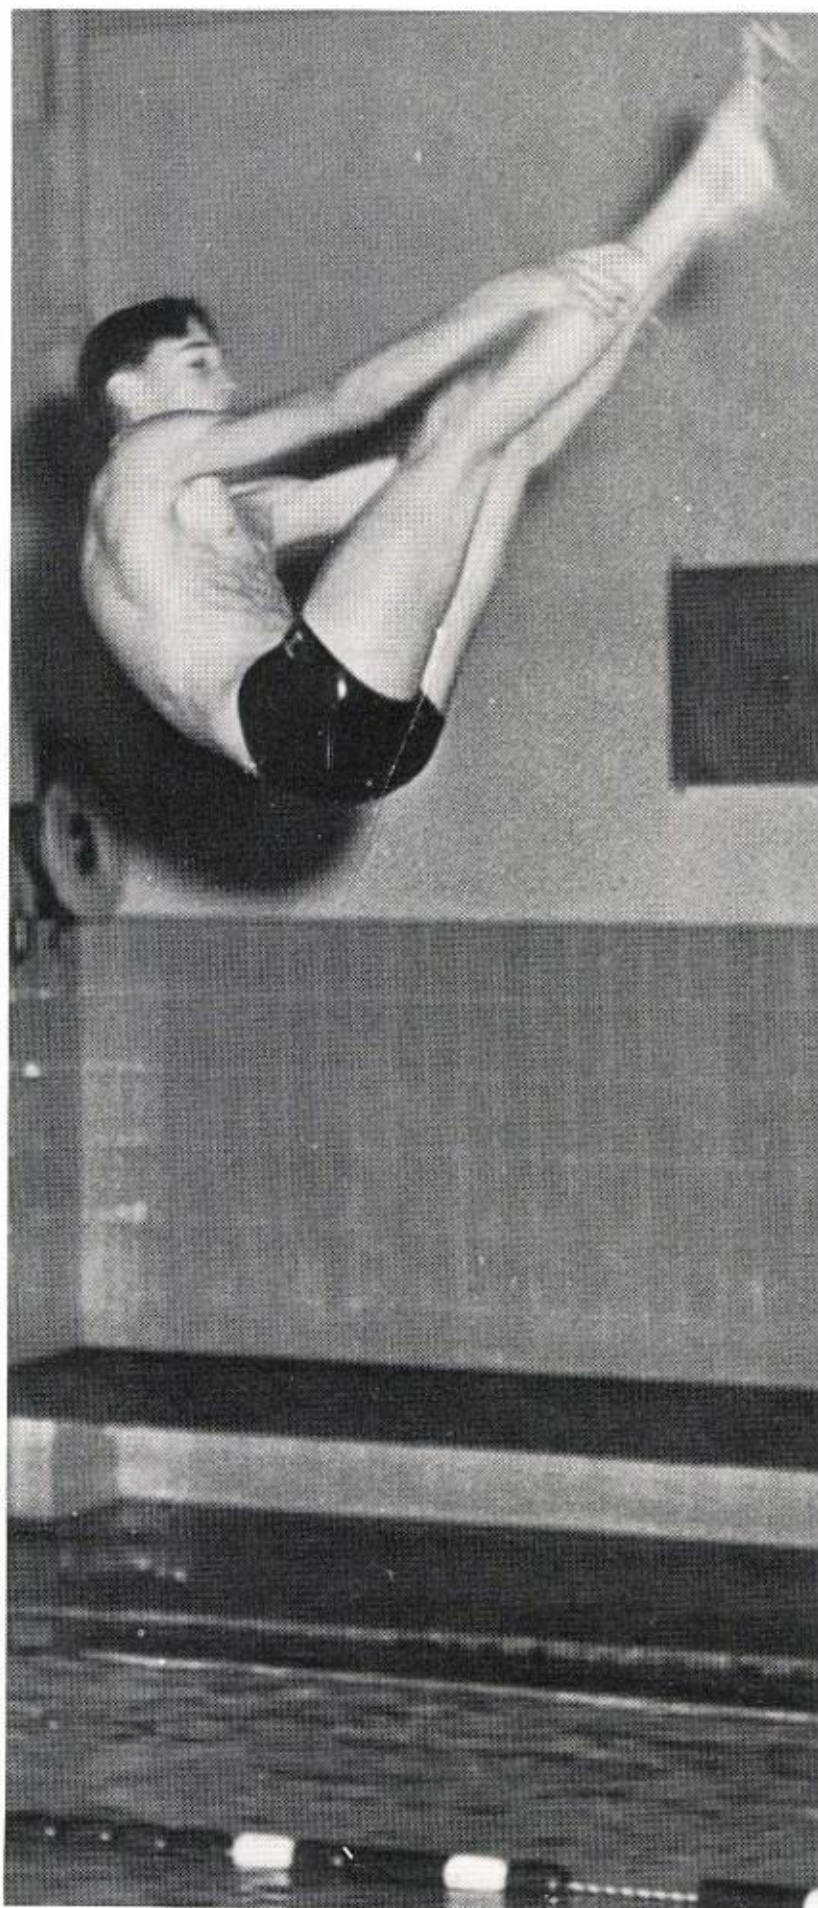

CAUGHT in mid air is Troy's Number one diver—Steve Sanneman.

Mermen Cop League Crown; Break National Record

THE SUNFLOWER League Meet, held in Topeka for the first time this year, was perhaps the best single meet for the Trojans. Before a capacity crowd, the mermen smashed seven league records in amassing their 105-point total. In the final event of the meet, the 160-yard freestyle relay, Topeka swimmers Pete Barham, Tom Magerkurth, Tom Clark, and Bill Mills mounted the starting block for their third attempt at the national high school record. Flashing through the water in record breaking time, the THS swimmers eclipsed the old high school mark of 1:11.9 by three-tenths of a second.

In the state meet, held at the Wichita YMCA, the Trojan finmen again met their old nemesis and defending state champion, Wichita East. Having suffered their only loss of the year to the Blue Aces in an earlier meet, the Trojans were eager to avenge that loss. But again, as in last year's state meet, the first day qualifying trials took their toll of Topeka swimmers and the Trojans had to be satisfied with a distant second place finish.

Wrestling—

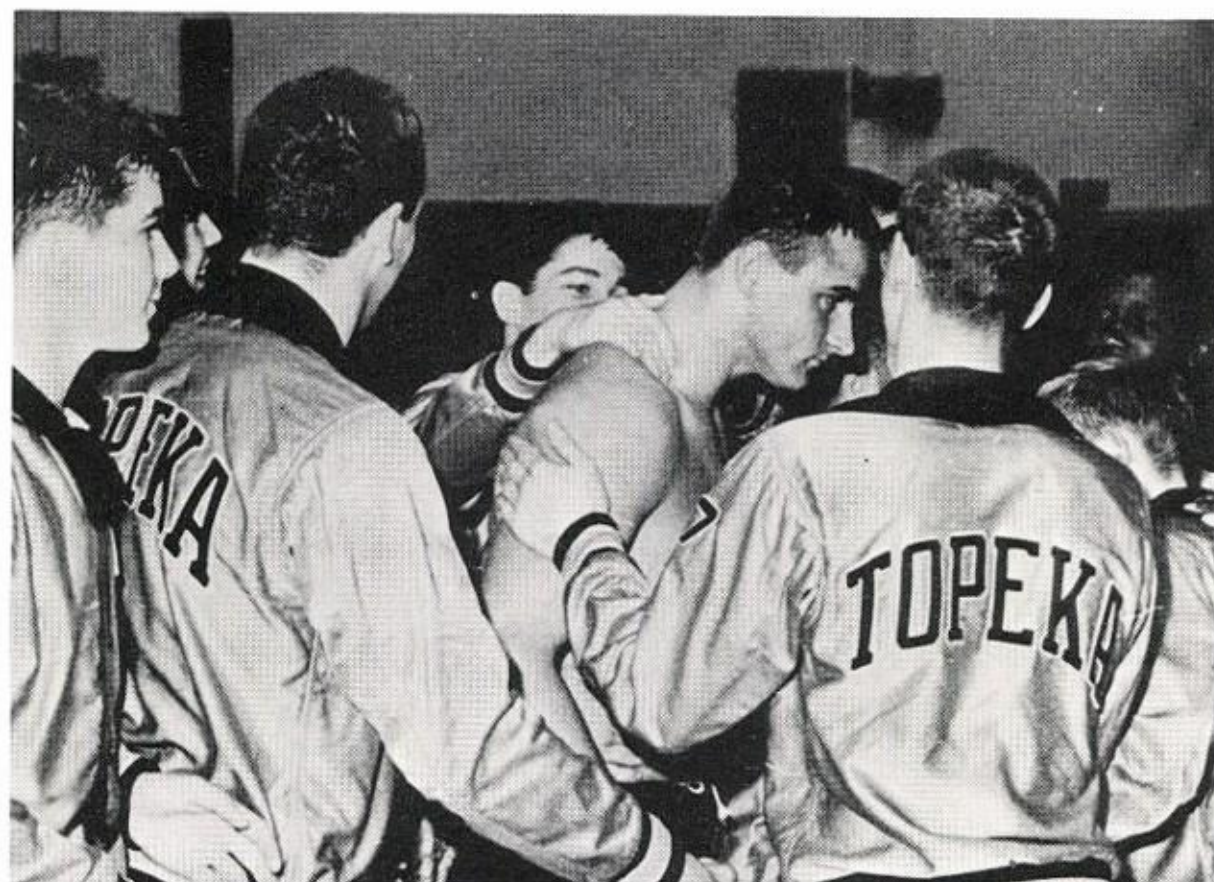

Grapplers Point to Future; Walters Takes State Title

COACHED this year by a newcomer to the sport, Don Bliss, the Trojans managed to place seventh in the Regionals and eleventh out of thirty in the State Meet. In the first, three Trojans qualified: Captain Chuck Walters in the 180-pound division; Leonard Lewis, on the other end of the scale, in the 95-pound class; and Stan Nyswonger, midway, in the 122-pound competition. Winning by a decision in an overtime in the Regionals, Walters climaxed an undefeated season by going to the State Meet at Oakley the next week and winning the championship in another close match.

Walters is the first state champion from Topeka High since Bob Wanamaker took the title in both 1956 and 1957. Lewis was pinned in his first bout but came back strong in his later matches to gain third place. Nyswonger was pinned in both rounds and ended in sixth place. With five lettermen returning, Coach Bliss can look forward to an improved year.

State: Eleventh with 16 points

TROJAN wrestler Gary Pudrbaugh grapples with an opponent in an attempt to "pin down his foe."

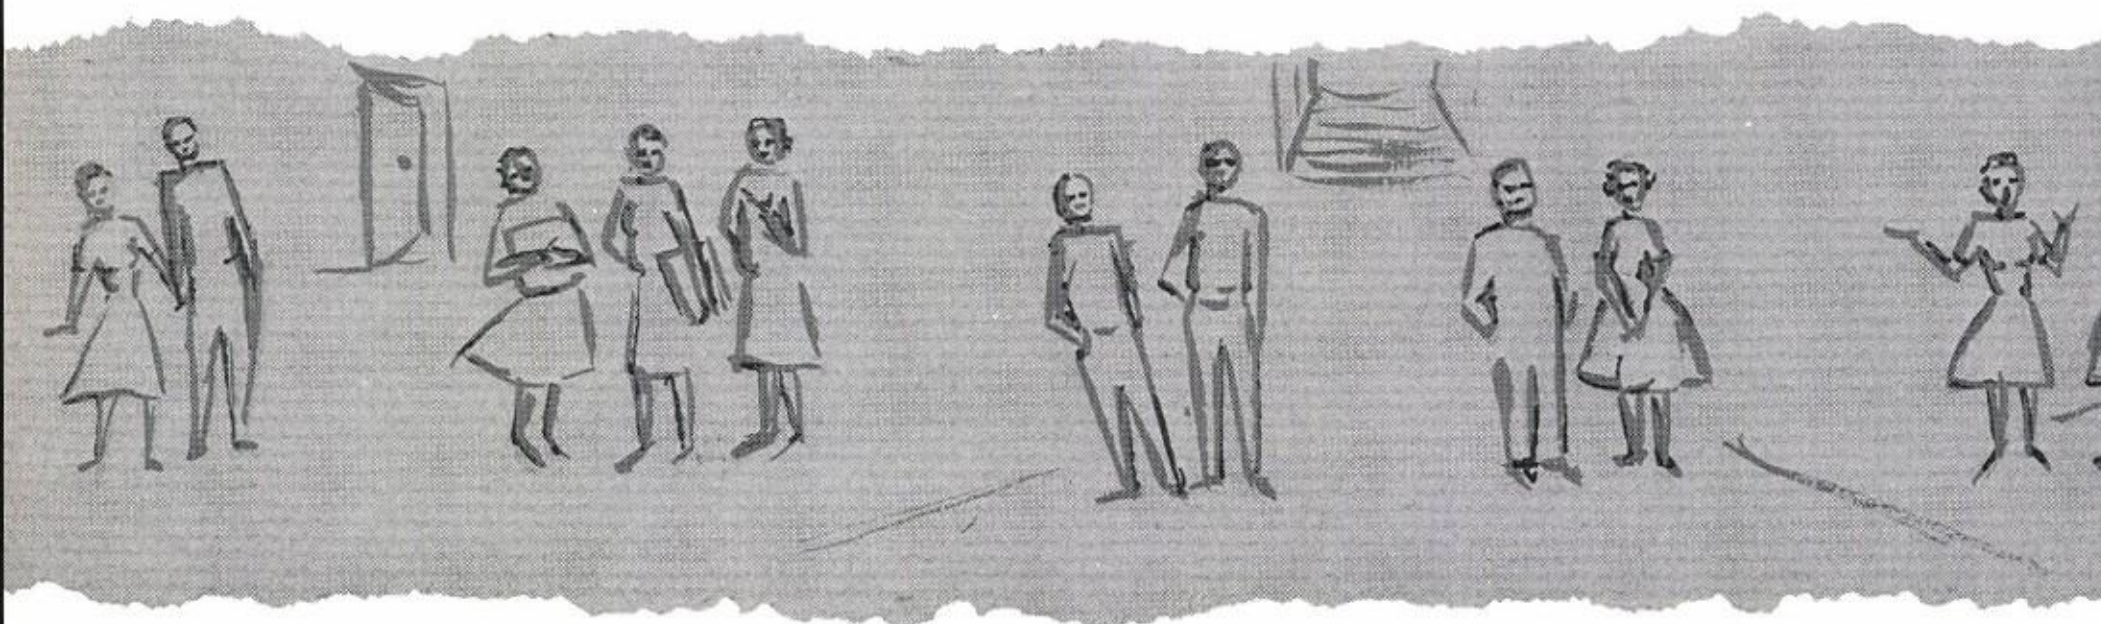

STATE champ Chuck Walters seems to be "on top" as he maneuvers his man into position for a pin.

STORMY morning—Library Wing.

EN AVANT!—Enter the Halls!

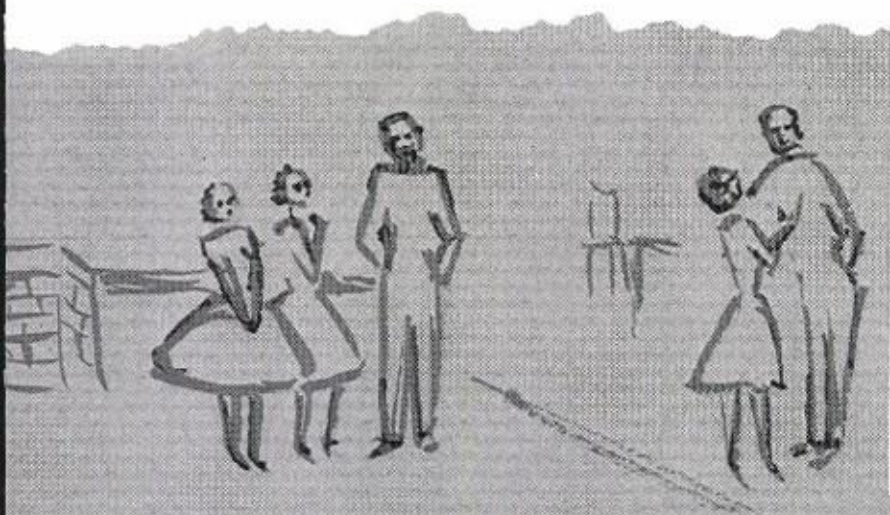

NOON respite—The Veranda.

Student Body

- We are the Trojans—
Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors—
- The sophomores—new and a little afraid,
The juniors—happy in the middle,
- The seniors—who must say sadly, goodbye.
Time passes and we cannot stop it,
- Yet our friends here are never forgotten:
We may leave, but we will always remember
TROY AND THE TROJANS!!

D WATTS

THE BIG SEVEN. An early gathering around the cafeteria fireplace to discuss Senior Reception plans includes Sally, Patty, Martha, and Sherril. Standing up for their rights are Kirby, Jon E., and John W.

Seniors—

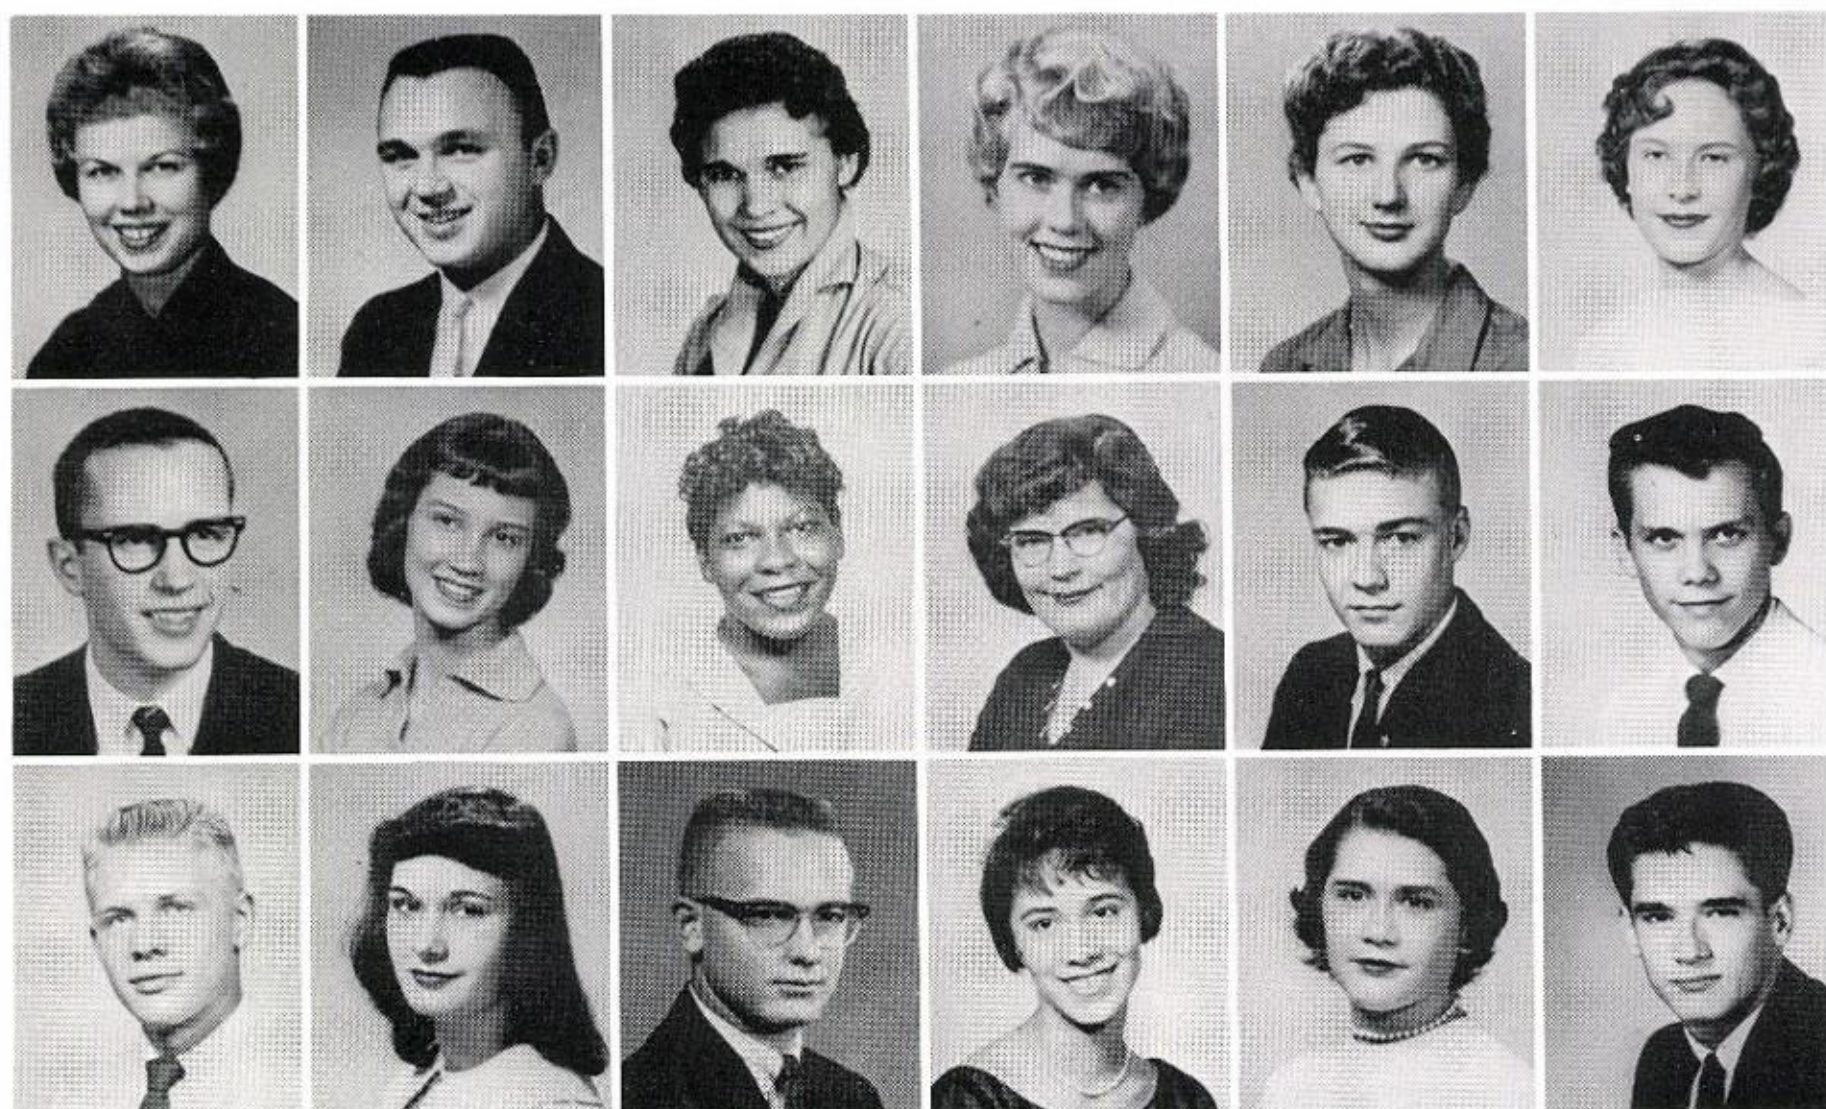

One Milestone Reached; Future Opens New Highways

CLASSROOMS, friends, assemblies, finals . . . veranda chatter, grade-card days, lunchlines, election rallies . . . books, plays, the chimes, The Tower . . . What do they make? Together, these experiences spell "Class of 1960"—to each senior the Best Class, Best School, Best Friends—the BEST and final years of public schooling.

Crowding one on another, responsibilities came heavily from the very first days of the Fall of '57 when high caliber marked academic, service, and club activities. Strong and united efforts culminated in a social event that will be hard to duplicate, sophisticated Club '59.

The AFS program had its biggest boost with Yanti Soebiakto and Uta Zick becoming a part of Troy, and Bob Dolgoff and Jon Ekdahl taking the Trojan spirit for a jaunt overseas. Whatever the future holds for any of the 580 who have been together as high school students for the past three years, it will be more satisfying because of happy unity in the Great Class of '60. Theirs is the challenge to become "Leaders Tomorrow."

Juniors—

Top Achievement Records Point-up Highest Expectations

TO BE go-betweens to the high and mighty seniors and the low and youthful scrubs is an important spot in any school, and one which the Class of 1961 has felt that it filled to satisfaction. Scholarship interest remained high as the record number of Merit tryouts attested. Athletic achievements were notable, and the more than 800 members have a right to look to next year with pardonable pride. Socially, the job has been well handled with the successful production of Mr. Roberts last fall and the traditional Prom with its Moods in Abstraction theme.

Financially, egotistically, and prophetically, the AFS assembly, where the juniors outstripped the other classes by a wide margin, was the highlight of the year. It never had happened before, may never happen again; but the '61-ers have had their hour of triumph.

Sophomores—

First Year Trojans Put Proverbial 'Best Foot Forward'

MEETING the cries of "Scrub!" and braving the traditional teasing of upperclassmen, the Class of '62 developed their loyalties very early. Induction was their first step toward unity, followed by the excitement of elections and the football season, Homecoming—where their float entry was a second-place winner, assemblies, the first play; and dominating all, new studies, new vistas, new values.

The class waited until mid-winter to gather for a strictly social event, and the Hawaiian Luau proved to be a well-planned, elaborately decorated event which undoubtedly will set the pace for next spring's Prom.

The Sophomore Class now awaits the future. The newness has worn off, and in its place is a realization that the coming years will bring to them and Troy a fine measure of scholarship, good sportsmanship, and lasting friendships as they continue to mature.

May 27, 1960

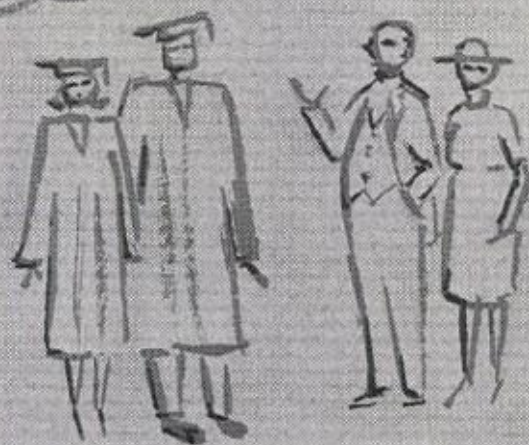

"THIS I DID"—Important records of high school interests.

Seniors' Activities

- Three autumns, three winters, three springs
Have passed since we first came
- To the halls of Troy, and now we must leave;
We must say our final goodbyes
- For we will not return next fall.
But we have left our mark here,
- Not a name scratched on a locker,
Or initials written on a desk,
But what we were as Trojans.

And say this in rhyme that is short and terse:

We devote these pages to your great renown.

THE OLD SUNFLOWER staff is about to retire. Here's your book—we've loved doing it—hope you love reading it and keeping it—and keeping it—and keeping it—forever and forever and forever. We may look cross-eyed and bedraggled, but we're still here, rooting for the best class of all—forerunners of the Silly, Sentimental, Soaring Sixties, whatever they be.

1959-1960 has been an unusual year in many ways; in others a typical year for 2400 Trojans. New and exciting activities added spark to the well-ordered and well-loved traditions.

* * * * *

To the world's peoples it has had its highlights—new developments in science—perhaps cancer and other so-called incurable diseases are being conquered. No longer do we talk only of Sputniks and Luniks, but Explorers, Vanguarders, Pioneers, and Tiros are aloft; and there are men in training for that first and frightening trip to the unknown in outer space.

* * * * *

Educators have been excited, frustrated, and determined—for things are going to change during the new decade—for the better.

* * * * *

This was the year of the extra day, February 29; the year of the big snows and the long icicles; the year of the census beginning on April Fools Day; the year for Republicans, Democrats, and freelancers. Now is the year 1960, when 665 of us who have been Trojans for three years start out in the world.

* * * * *

We've said it before; we'll say it again: This is THE YEAR.

This year the student body had an important voice in school policy when it decided between fall and spring elections. The difficult decision clearly defined both assets and drawbacks and closed a thorough investigation. However, we speak for everyone when we say that the 1959 fall elections were smoothly run by Pete and Polly. Competition was keen and a good slate of officers carried us through the year.

* * * * *

Coming on the heels of elections, Homecoming was minus some of its usual embellishments — the bonfire, the assembly skit, and several floats. Speaking of the latter, Trojan boy pepsters did a fine job on theirs—too bad they didn't get the green light on their theme before they started work. "Can the Cats" was an unusually lively slogan.

* * * * *

"Fabulous" was the reaction to the return of Your Show. We once again became aware of the tremendous variety of talent available in our own student body. Let's hope next year's schedule includes another version of "a really big sho - o - ow."

* * * * *

This was the 25th time that THS has played host to debaters from all over the state. The NFL chapter planned the silver anniversary tournament. A successful season closed with a third place victory in the state meet and hosting of the Sunflower League in a close-of-the-season banquet.

* * * * *

How about 100-percenters, now? Mr. Reid certainly hit the nail on the head when he made us realize that it's better to do one thing well than to meddle in a dozen activities half-heartedly. We won't forget that 100-percenters back up Troy's teams with both enthusiasm and good sportsmanship.

As this goes to press we don't know "whether we are or whether we aren't" the 20th holder of the National Bellamy Flag Award. Whatever happens on May 18, the spirit of pride and competition kept Mrs. Greer and Mr. Weaver busy answering questions, mailing statistics, and keeping Trojans on tiptoes.

* * * * *

This was the year the band got the "blue ribbon." Mr. Don Jacoby—and who plays the brass any better—said it was a great organization. No wonder permission has been granted by the school board for the Trojan Band to apply for the honor of representing the Kansas Centennial at the 1961 Rose Bowl.

* * * * *

The Christmas season was properly and festively ushered in with the very best of All-School Parties. The fantasy of fairy tale characters suited the right mood. Queen George and King Mike and their eight attendants were the perfect choice to rule over a gala affair.

* * * * *

Wonder how it feels to be the top honor student in a far away land? Bob Dolgoff piled up laurels for himself and Troy when he rated highest at his French lycee. He and summer visitor Jon Ekdahl were fine ambassadors on the two AFS programs to Europe.

* * * * *

Uta and Yanti—Europe and the Far East. Now they're Trojans with a lot of the spirit of the great open spaces. We've all loved knowing them and hope they go back to their homelands feeling the warmth of friendship with America because of their months with us. Bon Voyage! Auf Wiedersehen! Hasta Luega! Dear Norma,

This has really been some years for you and me. Since Dec. 1, when I finally awoke to your presence, I have been one of the happiest persons in the world. The play "Laura", the Christmas holidays, the operetta, and all of the spring parties will always remain foremost in my memories of T.H.S. because of you. I have told you many times that without you, I would have completely destroyed myself by the first of the year. No matter what may happen this summer or next year, I want you to know now that I am very, very proud of you and your accomplishments at dear old Troy. You are sweet, cute, intelligent, and more than anything else, you are sincere in everything you do or say. This is an admirable trait and one that I wish

Such a year for dramatics! Who ever thought a high school cast could achieve a believable production of Mr. Roberts? It was authentic, virile, full of good humor, and with just the right touch of sentiment. Even Jill had her moments when she nibbled the captain's palm tree. Pretty, pretty Betsy was a real charmer, surrounded by all her shipshape admirers.

* * * * *

Then there was Laura—a chiller-diller if there ever was one. Mike Wilson was so good that he made every play of the season, an enviable record.

* * * * *

In the "psychiatric center of the world", why shouldn't a play like Lady in the Dark go over with a bang? Well, it did, and the whole dramatics department should just sit back with the rest of us and say GREAT!

* * * * *

AS regal Princess Anastasia, as the hilarious Tish Carberry, and as the bewildered Lady, Vicki Loeb sack sets another record in an almost unbelievably versatile acting career.

* * * * *

Queen of Courts came and went almost before we knew what was happening. Pert, petite, pretty Polly Palmer didn't pick a peck of pickled peppers, but with her equally lovely attendants ruled over her willing subjects with the right amount of regal poise.

* * * * *

Swimming took the spotlight this year when pool competition came into its own. We wouldn't be at all surprised if some future Olympic star climbed his ladder of success right up out of our li'l old swimmin' hole. The girls went in for beauty and symmetry and they did a fine job of "coloring" the pool in their annual water show.

so very much to me.

I want to wish you the very,

Oklahoma! What an operetta to have produced — colorful, tuneful, sentimental. Whenever we see "corn as high as an elephant's eye" we'll recall sweet Laurey and Curly; we'll remember Ado Annie's predicaments; we'll drop a tear because "poor Jud is daid." Two sellout shows were proof that 5,000 people felt the same way we did.

"Read every word every week in The WORLD" is a pretty good survey of how the students have accepted their own publication this year. Van and his staff did a good job of getting all the news of honors, curriculum, and activities combined with editorials, features, and some nice literature. Fine WORLD!!

* * * * *

Three hundred pages, a million words, can't say all the things that come to mind as we review these wonderful years. We thought we were PERTURBED when we started to look backwards. Now that we're signing off, it's PLEASED we are, and grateful to all the staff members and particularly Mrs. Greer. It's really been a fine year.

Covertly yours,
(discretely)

Kathy

New Faces—

Troy Puts Out Welcome Mat

ALTHOUGH hundreds of Trojans enjoy the continuity of three years of schooling at Topeka High School, there are many each year who enter or leave the Halls of Troy as families move to other cities or come to live in the Topeka area. Many of these students no doubt find that absorption into a large school is slow and difficult; others will find their new niches quickly and happily.

Trojans mean to be friendly and welcome newcomers. If they are not, it is probably because their activities and interests limit them unintentionally. If new students understand that both they and the established Trojans belong to one "family" there should develop over the months a fine feeling of camaraderie.

RETURNEE. Mrs. James Huttenuoff (Shirley Holtwick, '58) takes Miss Skupa's place on the Home Ec Staff.

FOR THREE YEARS and more now, we have seen The Tower,
Not as passers-by, but as those who live under it
Five days a week.
We have seen it in all lights:
In the breathless half-silver of early morning
And in the rich gold of a late fall afternoon.
We have seen it against skies black with storms
And skies of deep, calm blue.
We have seen it half obscured by fog
And whitened by swirling snow.
We have seen it brilliantly lighted against a purple sky
And gently touched by moonlight.
We have seen it a thousand times and will a thousand more;
And each time we see The Tower above the trees
WE ARE PROUD.

● EN AVANT—no longer does the delicate carving on the crest over the main door welcome us to the beloved Halls of Troy—except as alumni and guests.

● Instead, the words become a challenge as we leave
Topeka High School, and a greeting as we enter the Wide, Wide World.

● EN AVANT—

Promise of Things to Come

KEYED UP for things to come, Troy's 1961 graduates took a step into the future and presented the handsome Bellamy Award plaque as their parting gift. Along with the symbolic flag, here held by Senator Carlson, Senator Schoepel, and Representative Avery on the day it flew over the Nation's Capitol, it will become a permanent link in Topeka High School's chain of traditions. It will be officially unveiled on Bellamy Day, October 13, 1961.

TWO by two, junior lovelies march in.

THE COLOR and gaiety of spring gardens is the perfect foil for grey-gowned seniors.

A SIP of cool water refreshes Miss Alej and Miss Wheeler.

DRESSED for comfort at rehearsal, Mr. Weaver checks his program.

EARLY in line, Jack Spencer turns in his fake for a real diploma from Mrs. Woodburn and Mr. Hill.

Graduation Fair Skies, High Spirits Join in 'Perfect Night'

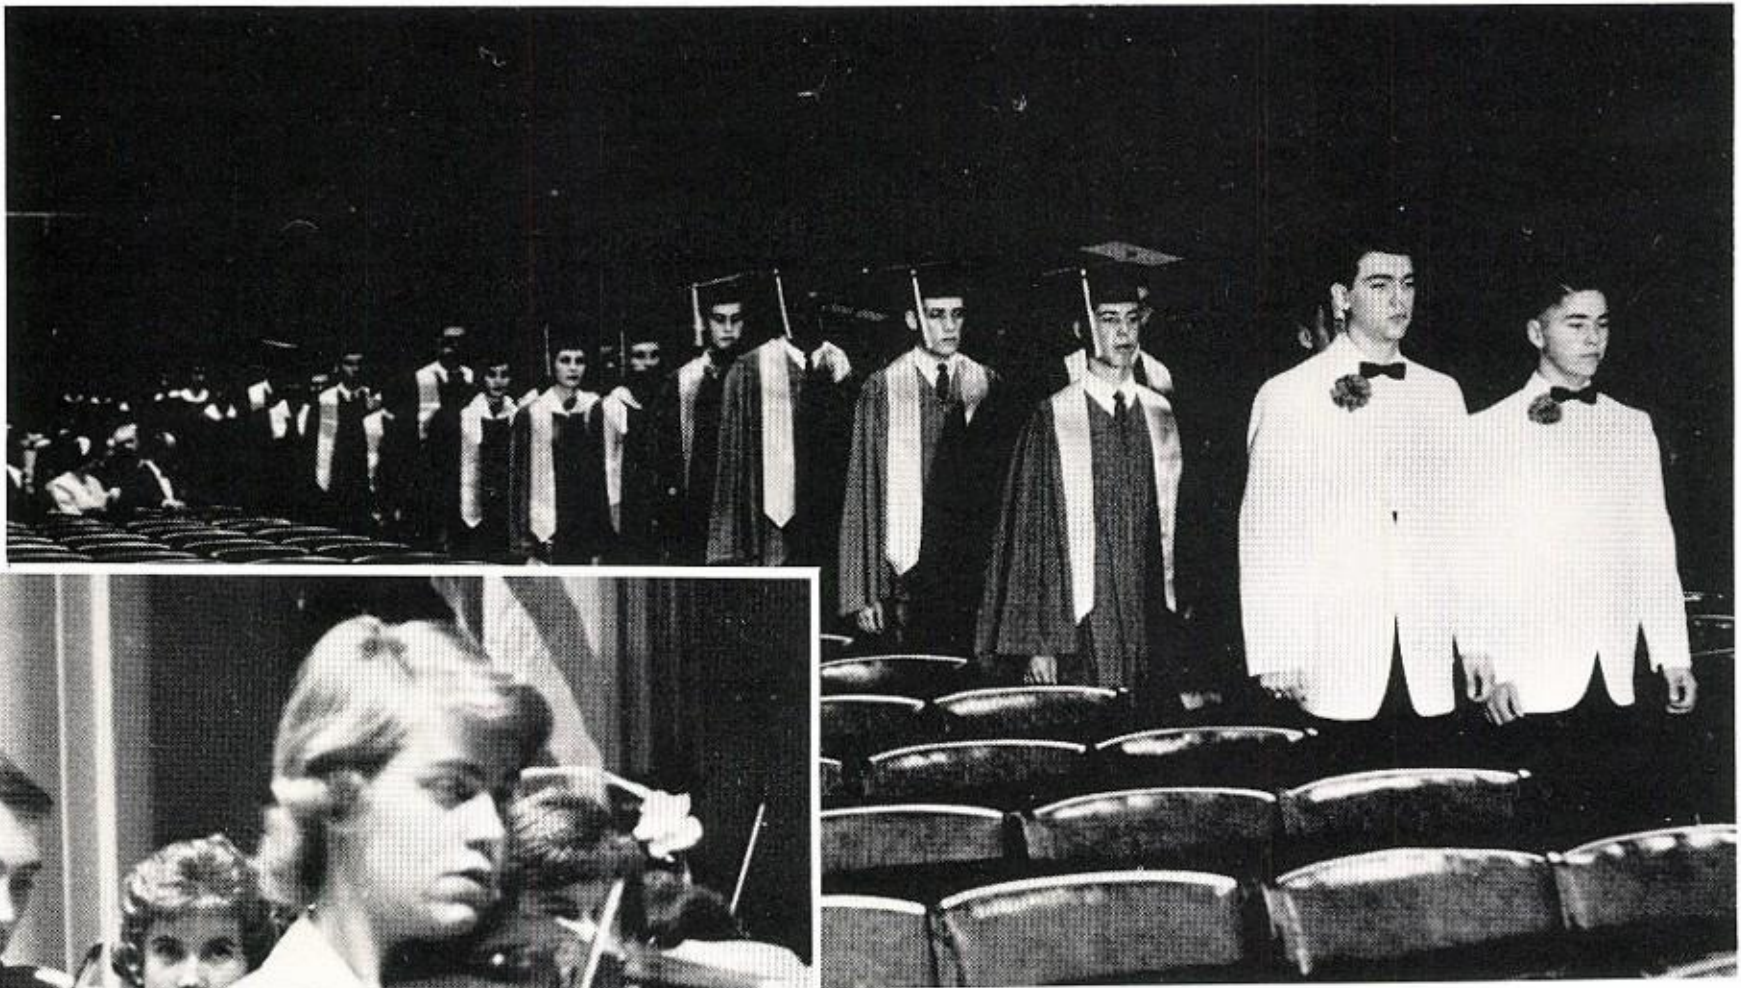

THERE IS "nothing so rare as a day in June" if that day happens to be high school graduation. Following a morning of grade cards and yearbook signing and a rehearsal in brilliant sunshine, 702 students received diplomas, including four veterans, seven specials, and nine from the adult evening school. The stadium was crowded with proud and happy parents and friends while the grassy slopes of Moore Bowl were nearly filled with townspeople eager to get their annual glimpse of one of the Midwest's most impressive pageants.

As a finale to the twelve years of public schooling in the American Way, the entire two-and-a-half hour program from the orchestra Prelude to the gay abandon of dismissal, was a series of highlights. "Pomp and Circumstance" accompanied the more than two hundred junior daisy chain girls who formed the aisle for the robed and cowled faculty and administrators, and finally the graduates.

Greeted, praised, admonished, challenged, and rewarded, each received his diploma with a sense of pride and an inward awareness of his responsibilities.

A LINE forms as Mr. Madl serves cokes at the post-graduation reception sponsored by class officers.

FIRST steps to graduation, led by junior ushers.

LAST performance—Eric Jackson, Ann Fetter.

Joint Religious Program Draws Schools Closer

IN AN ATTEMPT to join more closely the climaxing events in the lives of Topeka's high school graduates, Board of Education members made a trial run of unification with the traditional baccalaureate ceremonies May 28 in the Municipal Auditorium.

Although the more intimate Sunday afternoon event, held in Hoehner Auditorium and followed by a parents' reception, was regretted by tradition-loving Trojans, the 1961 version had a "Greater Topeka" atmosphere. The dignified line of march with Highland Park's 200-plus graduates and Topeka High's 700 grey-robed seniors gave the city's largest gathering place an authentic academic air.

The class sermon emphasized the spiritual challenge facing today's youth in a world of unrest where the need for humanistic understanding must balance man's rapid exploration into outer space.

Class Day Great Day of Nostalgia Reviews Years at Troy

THE OLD and favorite theme of "Heaven versus Hell" took on a new twist May 19 when the Great Class of '61 showed its imaginative spirit and looked ahead to the year 2000. Having then been unconcerned for nearly half a century of simmering and sizzling, the homesick and suddenly reformed refugees from Under the Tower petitioned their Satanic Master for release and a transfer to cooler and more comfortable climes.

To prove their sincerity of purpose, the leaders called on members whose talents upheld their contention that their Class had been the BEST. With tail dragging and horns wilted, the Old Fellow finally admitted that Hades-2000 was no place for such outstanding THS graduates.

Full of sentiment, the traditional presentation of a class gift, the farewell address, and Class song were up-to-date demonstrations to the special 50-year guests, graduates of 1911, that Troy remains the same at heart though times and customs change.

MASTERS of rhythm, Joe Klugg and John Milliken "swing out."

"WITH snacks or meals, beans or cheese . . ." Preston Hoyt and Tom Magerkurth "take off" a TV commercial.

"SECOND chance, bah!" Devil Hawver and his impish supporters, Linda Light, Wendy Fisher, are skeptical about reasons for "going back up there."

"THESE were the days." Words of both appreciation and reminiscence flavor Ralph Muxlow's "Farewell to Troy."

"FROM a whippoorwill . . ." Sally Lauterbach entertains the crowd in high-toned nightclub style.

WAITING cues, program rehearsal is watched by Loie Stone, Karen Seimeyer, Pam Nelson.

"HELP!" "I'll save her," shouts the big hero, Don Grimes. Loie Stone is his lady love, Richard Shutt the villain.

THROUGH the lovely rose bower, Tom Magerkurth escorts Mary Kay Perry for their first dance.

Junior-Senior Prom Showboat's a' Comin' Keynotes Annual Fete

DOCKING the Showboat for the Troy Cotillion, the 1961 Prom-goers descended for an evening of easy living and pleasing entertainment. The billowing ballroom set a mood of languid elegance with its sparkling fountain and crystal chandeliers. And only as far away as the rose-covered archway was the casino, complete with souvenir cards and roulette wheels.

Melodrama—as melodramatic as it could come—made the Prom program an unique success. Riverboat guests on stage and in the audience were entertained with the lively tempo of song and dance and the clever routine of animated puppets.

Receiving graciously, hosts and hostesses guided their guests through a successful party. Seniors and Juniors alike admitted that their evening at the Troy Cotillion was a charming one, a la sentiment and Southern hospitality.

ALL SMILES, social chairman Judy Cook, class sponsor Mrs. Bartlow, and Principal and Mrs. Weaver greet the guests.

HONOR-T'S take the spotlight.

Honor-T Holding Points in Line Core of Recognitions

REVISED and revived, Troy's honor system emerged this year with important changes aimed at equal point distribution. Of the minimum 22 points, at least 12 had to come from grades while the remaining spanned the whole field of activities. As Student Council hoped, the revision tightened the requirements and heightened the honor proving that "Honor is as honor does."

Weeks of filing, evaluating, conferring, and tabulating culminated in the annual assembly May 8 where 217 Trojans received recognition for their outside work on school-sponsored projects. Stars of the show were the nine All-Times who represented the top ten percent who received Honor-T's with at least 30 points. Three received the coveted award for the second year.

Student Council "adopted" the Honor-T system as a major project for 1960-61. From the response and enthusiasm shown by applicants, officers feel that steps have been taken to increase the "honor".

'The Importance of Being Earnest' Gay 90's Shows Mixup Foibles of Plush Era

THE ARTIFICIALITY of an artificial era provided the audience with new areas of humor and viewing, and gave the cast the unique challenge of reversing the expected reactions of normal persons to normal situations. Almost all of the techniques of present-day good acting were contradicted in making The Importance of Being Earnest an enjoyable farce about a stilted society.

Love was presented in an irregular manner and involved mass confusion. Gwendolyn, a city girl, and Cecily, a country lass, both cherished the "girlish dream of marrying a man by the name of Ernest. Therefore Jack and Algy found "Being Earnest" of great importance. To be "Ernest" with an "earnest" aspect, fraud and impersonation were inevitably employed, artlessly believed, and just as inevitably exposed.

Authentic costumes, Victorian settings, melodramatic gestures, and affected speech restored the atmosphere of the Gay Nineties. In short, the last play of the year was a refreshingly different stylization with the authenticity of a pretentious period.

WHERE IS that baby! Gwendoline, Jack, Dr. Chausable, Cecily, Algy, Miss Prism, and Lady Bracknell.

'Capture State in '61' Tees Off Banner Year

TROJAN golfers avenged last year's play-off loss to Hutchinson by winning the 1961 state championship in four-man competition by a comfortable margin. Scott Linscott, Bay Chotlos, Bill McDonald, and John Stinson comprised the foursome which capped a highly professional season with a state trophy at the Wichita playoff.

Team members managed to make a good showing in every one of their outings. In addition to the state meet, Coach Laney's linksmen posted victories at invitationals held at Highland Park, Junction City, Salina, and Shawnee Mission East. Titles also fell their way in Sunflower League competition and at the Regionals. The two-man team won its first eleven meets before bowing to Pem Day and dropping to sixth in the Regionals.

Although a number of this year's golfers are underclassmen, prospects for next spring are dimmed because several, including McDonald, will play for Topeka West.

Tennis Net Dominance Reveals Championship Caliber

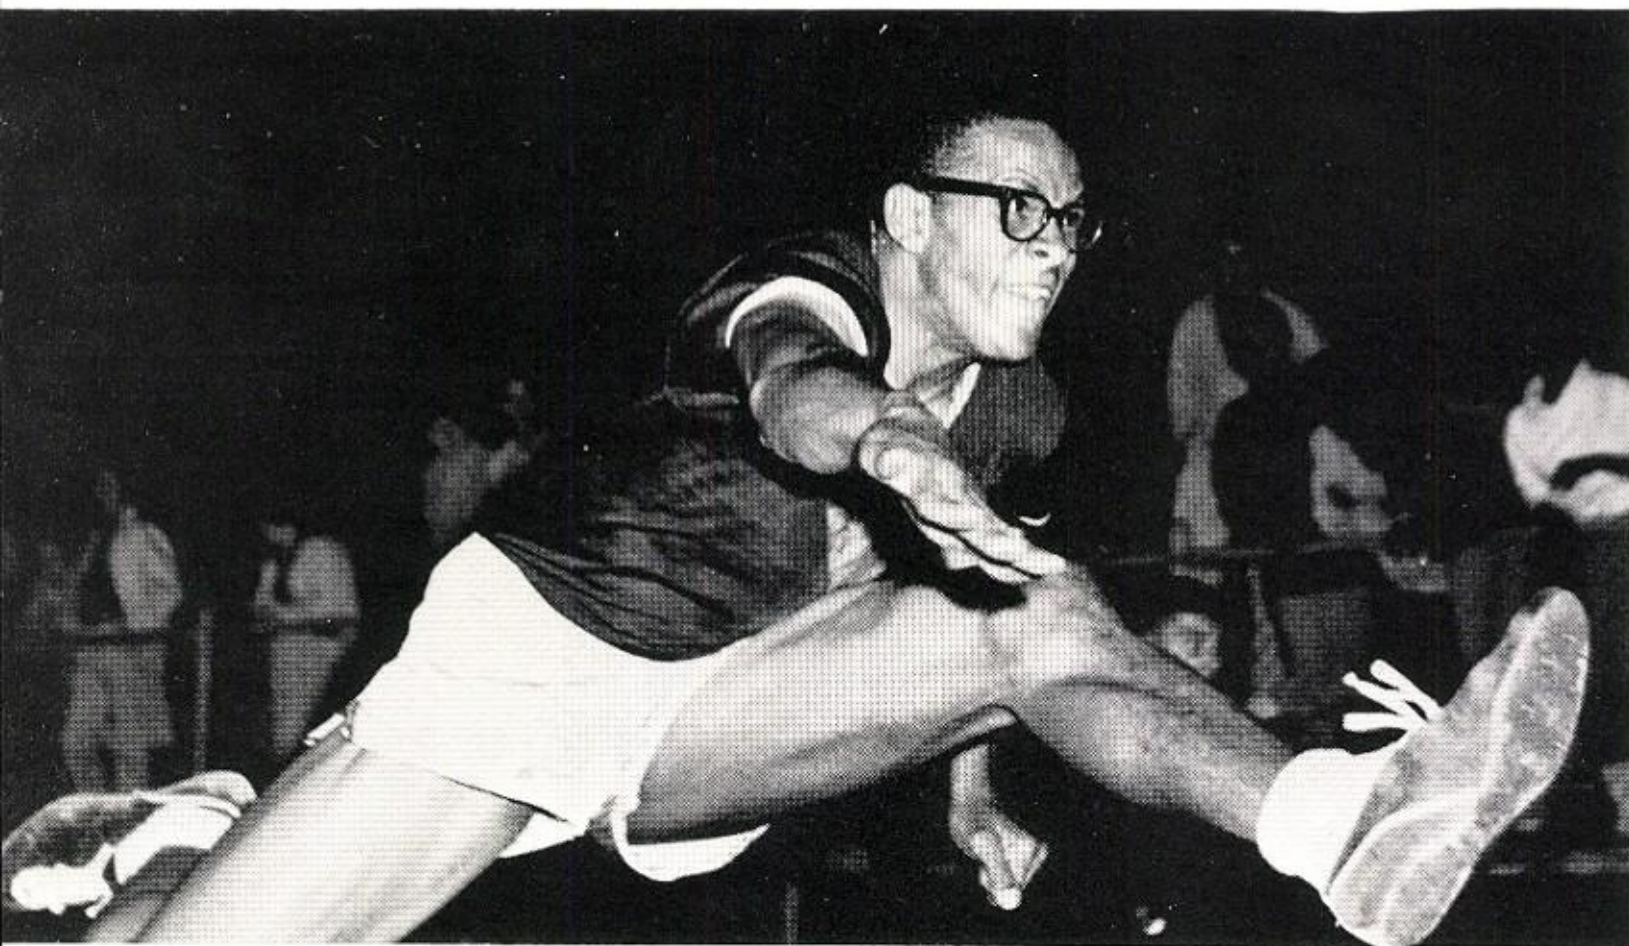

WITH TWO of the top players in the Midwest area, Troy's tennis squad rolled over all its foes to bring home the second consecutive state championship. Over all, the netters have not tasted defeat for 27 outings.

Coach Mel Villeme had plenty of talent to choose from. John Grantham avenged his only loss of the year in the state finals by turning back Salina's Lance Burr and becoming a two-time champion. Close on his heels, Barry McGrath came away with a third in state singles play. The doubles team of Alan Smith and John Lord captured the top spot in the regionals but lost out in the first round of the state meet at Winfield.

Prospects for next spring continue bright with graduation taking only McGrath and Smith and leaving junior lettermen Grantham and Lord and sophomores Bill Williams and Gale Howard.

Seven Firsts Highlight Weather-Fated Season

POWERED by sprinters and jumpers and backed by an unusually large number of fleet-footed sophomores, Troy's thinclads raced through a highly successful season but emerged as the state's number four team. The initial drop to fourth in the early Indoor Meet was the bounce that led to the mid-season boom despite rain and chill and a disappointing windup.

Several fine individual performances added spice to the season's record. Senior Bill Bradford set a school mark in the javelin early in the year, and the 440-yard relay team snared a title at the Kansas Relays where scores were not recorded. Joel Lawson, Dave Crandall, Andy Williams, and Bill Harris stepped off a state record of 1:28.7 in the 880-yard relay.

Even with these top showings, Troy was held to one state championship: Buddy Witts and John Nunley tied in the high jump at 6'3.5". Harris managed to place second in the 100-yard dash; Art Lewis was fifth in the broad jump; and the 880 runners nailed fourth.

Congratulations!

WHAT a wonderful year! What a perfect way to mark Troy's 90th anniversary! What a challenge to the student body, faculty, and administration to broaden accomplishments and aims!

Topeka High was chosen to represent Kansas as the 20th Annual Bellamy Flag Award School on May 18, the one hundred and fifth birthday anniversary of Francis Bellamy, author of the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America. Plans are already underway for the presentation ceremonies to be held in October of 1961.

The award recognizes the author of the famous thirty-one words and acknowledges the fine record and splendid traditions of ninety years of educational progress in our school.

Yes, congratulations to everyone — graduates, student body, faculty, and alumni. May the next years of our first century continue to be warm and glowing!

CLASS of 1960

BENEDICTION

Rev. Milton G. Walls, Jr.
Minister of Westminster Presbyterian Church

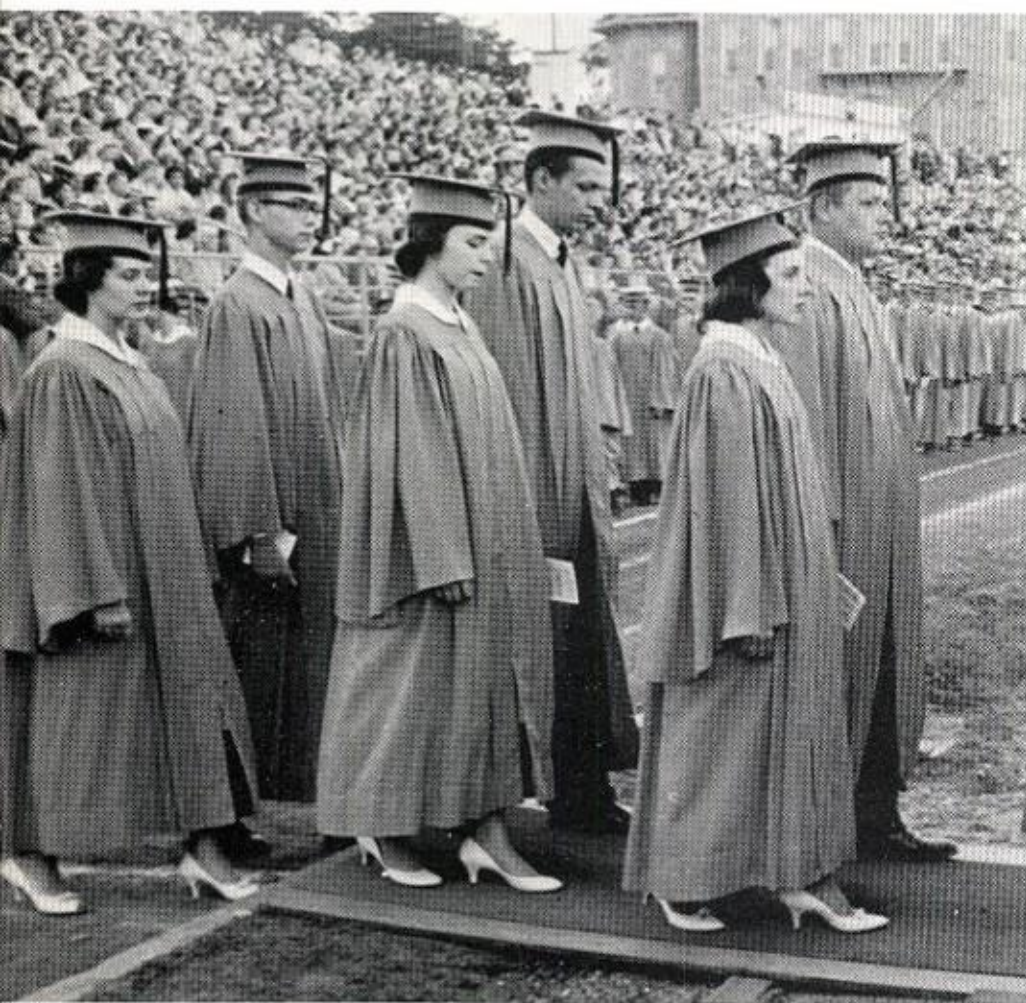

THROUGH the rose bower, the processional of faculty members initiates the long and winding line of march.

ADMINISTRATORS and special guests await the graduates in a springtime garden setting.

Graduation—

Record Class Takes Final Steps With Unusual Aplomb

“A NIGHT to Remember” was never more appropriately said than as the graduates, parents, faculty, friends, and administrators of Topeka High School filed from Moore Bowl in a mid-evening of late May to a mellow organ postlude.

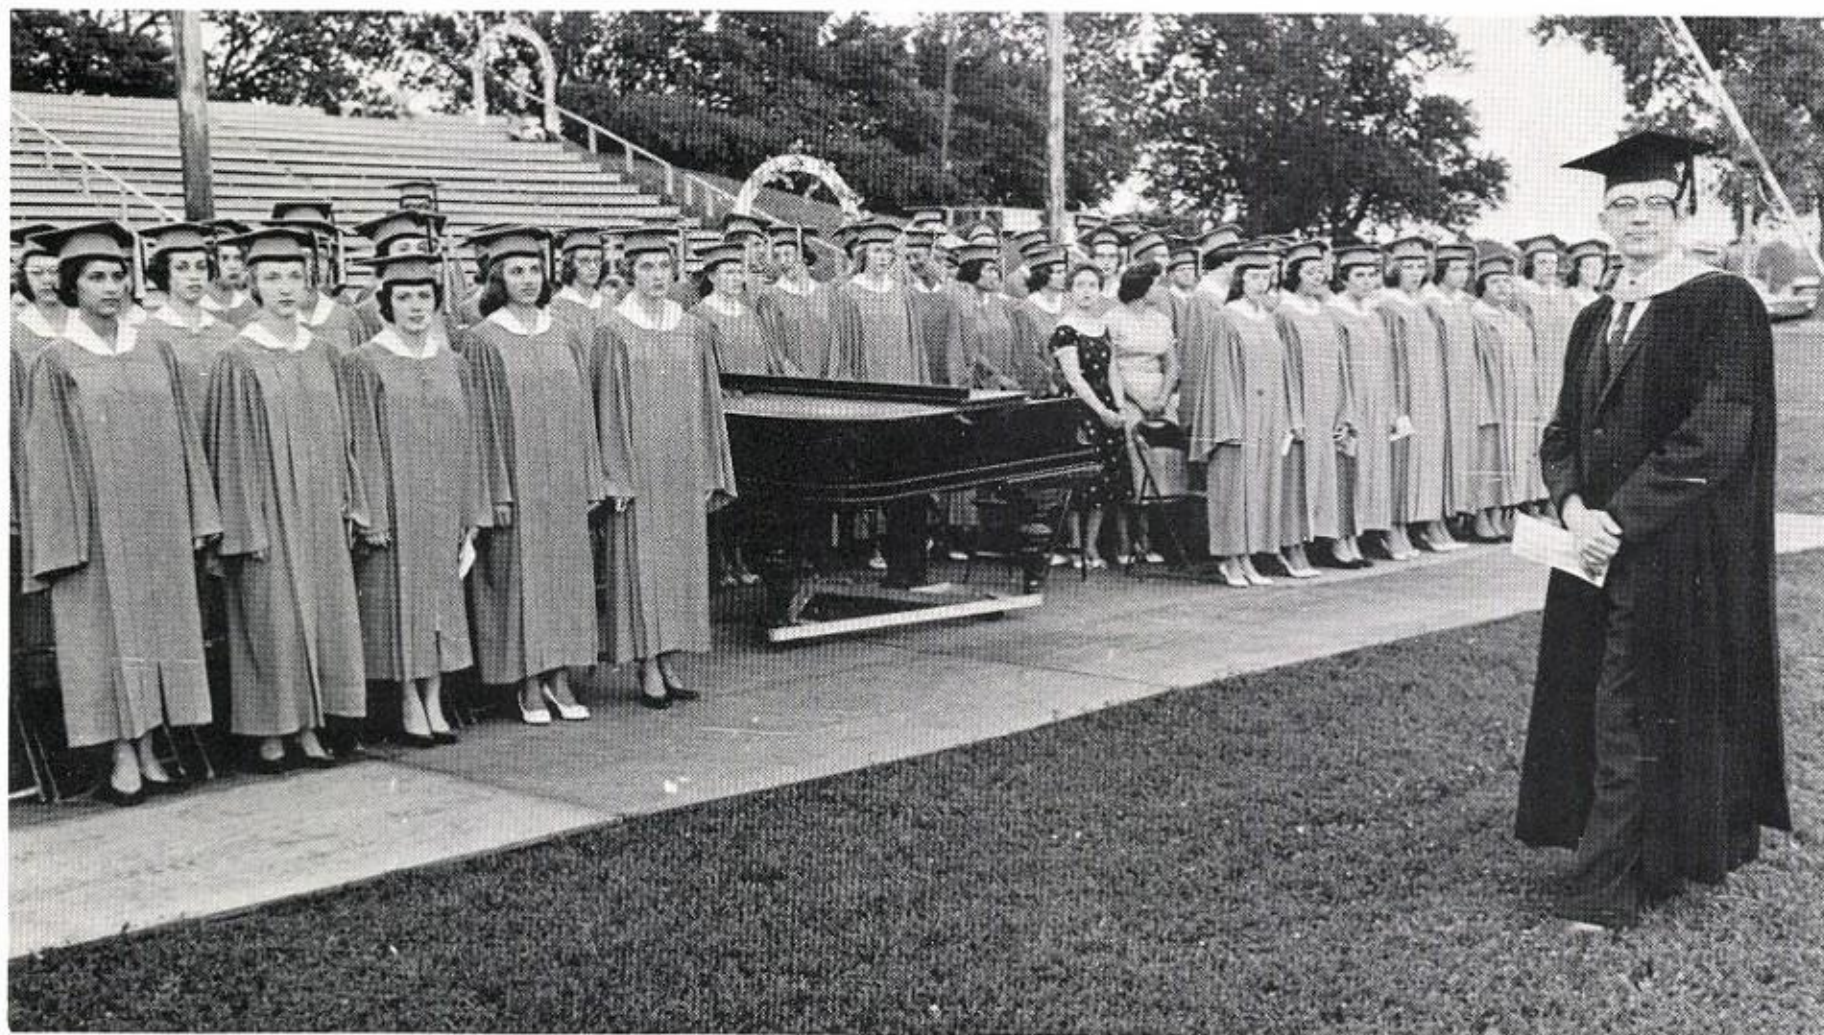

Perfect weather, a sense of accomplishment, and the inspiration of music and speech combined to make Troy's annual pageant of Commencement a never-to-be-forgotten climax to the twelve years of public schooling offered in Topeka.

The thousands of interested onlookers who filled the stadium and sat on the grassy slopes rose in physical, patriotic, and spiritual stature as the “Star Spangled Banner” floated in a gentle breeze and the program opened.

No milestone in life is more vital than that of high school graduation and the step up into adulthood. Troy's graduates took that step gracefully, eagerly, and with high promise. On May 27, 1960, Tomorrow became their Today.

TWO BY TWO, in the half-mile processional, grey-robed graduates file to places of honor.

THE CHOIR and Mr. Fly stand by for their cue.

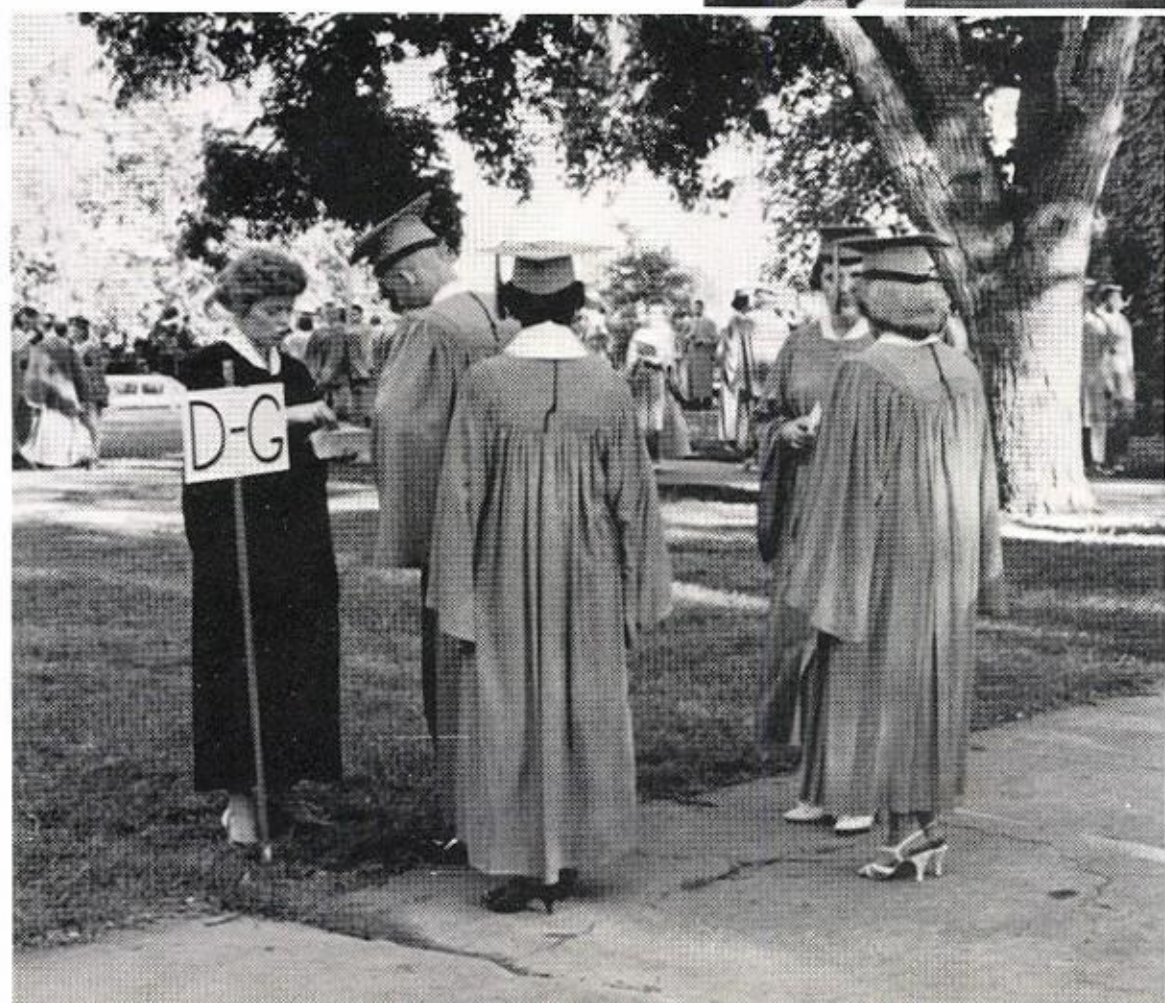

MULTI-COLORED dresses, hats, and nosegays of the junior girls make the Daisy Chain a cherished tradition.

FROM A to Z, Seniors found their name cards as the early evening shadows crept over Washburn's campus.

TURNING in his picturesque diploma for his permanent one, Richard Fieger moves past the exchange table prior to the last functions of the Class of 1960.

WELCOME refreshments served by Mrs. Bodenhause to Letty Staebler, Ken Smith, and smilin' Skip Cook.

A GUEST graduate on the AFS program joins Seniors. Larry Brown, Pam Bowen, Beverly Deatrich, Uta Zick, Stuttgart, Germany, Carol Sloyer, and Ann Weaver.

A "SEA" of Mortarboards. Graduates listen to Reverend Epp's sermon.

MARKING time at the turn, Mr. Gilbert directs the line of march.

Vespers—

Inspirational Service Lifts Thoughts to High Levels

TROY'S traditional Baccalaureate, known as Senior Vespers, brought the 700 graduates together May 22 on a warm Sunday afternoon. Grey-gowned and capped, the milling crowd picked up its step to the symbolic "Pomp and Circumstance."

Parents, friends, and faculty greeted the Seniors at an informal reception following the services. Around the flower-decked refreshment tables, graduates enjoyed last bits of conversation before going home to bone-up for finals.

Class Day—

'Doin' Whut Comes Natcherly' Sets Up Nostalgic Pace

HILARIOUS capers and uninhibited emotions rocked the Trojan stage May 20 when the Class of 1960 welcomed its guests to a preview of Dogpatch, 20 years hence.

Old Mammy and Pappy Yocum (JoAnn Roach and Tom Bornholdt) led the reminiscing of their offspring and young friends over the highlights of their short interlude known as "Topeka High Days." There were solos, duets, songs and dances, a monologue, a combo, and presentations that covered with lightness the treasured memories of happy experiences.

From the formal presentation of the Pledge of Allegiance plaque as the class gift and the acknowledgement of their sponsor's loyalty, to the sincerity of the Farewell Address and the sentiment of the Class Song, the whole school thrilled as the more than 600 graduates took over the limelight for the year's final assembly.

THE COMBO brings down the house.

Junior-Senior Prom—

'Moods in Abstraction' Updates Party's Modern Tempo

IN AN atmosphere of driftwood and chiffon, upper-classmen floated through an enchanting night, April 29. An original theme added to the sparkle of the evening when it was carried out through subtle decorations and lighting effects.

A novel program, narrated by Stuart McCall, set the stage for many surprises. Seven acts displayed "Moods" in ultra-modern dress.

A gracious receiving line ushered the guests into the combined ballrooms where blue lights transformed them into wonderlands of icy shadows.

Different, enchanting, memorable, the Junior Class' social gift to the Seniors was a highlight of the final months at THS.

THROUGH a festooned doorway new vistas loom for Dick Buck and Reva Webb.

Most Honored Seniors—

Classmates Select Eight Standouts as 'Best at THS'

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT of complete high school participation was sponsored for the fifth year by The SUNFLOWER's award of "Most Honored Seniors." From a group of sixteen, nominated by the faculty for academic superiority, activities, respect of fellow students and teachers, and acceptance of mature responsibilities, the Senior Class placed their seal of approval. The eight received special acclaim at the annual Honors Assembly on May 16.

Honor-T—

Point System Credits Annual Effort

SET UP as a measure for all-round participation, Troy's Point System requires detailed record-keeping on the part of the secretaries and many conferences with club sponsors to evaluate jobs and efforts. Honor-T certificates are based on twenty-two or more points, and the Honorable Mentions have a minimum of fifteen. Coveted recognition for perfect attendance and punctuality, academic achievement, and athletic and activity participation mounted up to certificates for 219 Trojans at the annual Awards Assembly May 9.

Highest honors went to the eleven who had at least thirty-four points in the top ten percent of the list. This unique system is annually revised under the Student Council as new duties come on the scene and emphasis on academic interests deepen.

'Lady in the Dark'—

Problem Play Discloses Conflicts Common to Everyone

AN UNUSUAL maturity of interpretation and a striking sense of the dramatic carried the third play of the current year to an appreciative audience on March 25. The Broadway and Hollywood success seemed particularly appropriate in a city known as the "Psychiatric Center of the World," where such terms as insecurity, struggle, emotions, stability, and patterns of life are not without at least vague familiarity.

Liza, lady of two worlds, her inward longings and her outward strengths, can be identified in all human beings battling uncertainties. The play's dream sequences were animated by the people she saw every day yet did not "know" at all. Although the symptoms of inner conflict were peculiar to Liza's character, the drama shed light on the fascinating mystery and wonder of man's desire and determination to find Truth.

"YOU'LL have to help ME help YOU", states Liza's Dr. Brooks.

POINTING fingers taunt Liza as her friends chant "You can't make up your mind!"

CHARLEY and Liza get a preview of the spring issue of Allure as Russell presents his models, Marcia, Helen, and Ruthie.

EXOTIC Alison DuBois is in disagreement with Russell Paxton, but Maggie is disgusted at their verbal fireworks.

Team Clings to 4-8 Record as Sport Bows Out at THS

IN THEIR last year in play for Topeka High, the Trojan diamond men racked up a 6-5 record. Discontinued as a sport at THS because of mounting equipment and traveling costs, and a lack of teams available for scheduling, baseball at Troy has passed into history. Plagued all through the 1960 season by faulty fielding and spotty pitching, the team played brilliant ball one game and in the next, completely folded. The highlight of the season was the double win over Ward, always one of Topeka's toughest opponents. In the first game, Junior John Atkinson went the full nine innings while giving up only six hits. In the second game, Senior Max Gaither pitched the Trojans to an extra inning's victory, striking out fifteen Ward players to the welcome and dramatic tune of 9-5.

Young Blood Nabs 'State'

SPARKED all year long by the play of Sophomore John Grantham, Troy's netters rolled through an undefeated season and to the state championship. The netmen shut out their first five opponents by scores of 9-0; and in their sixth match downed Winfield, always one of the top teams in the state, 7-2. Coasting on through the season, they defeated Wyandotte, downed Salina and Washington, and swept to the Sunflower League crown.

After winning the regionals at Shawnee Mission North, the team moved on to Manhattan for the state championships. In hard play, Grantham emerged as state singles champion, and the doubles team of Lee Gladfelter and Alan Smith copped third place. This gave THS its only state championship of the year and the first for tennis in the history of the sport.

With only two seniors among the top twelve players, the tennis outlook for the next two years at Topeka High is very bright indeed.

Relays Grab Spotlight as Topeka Takes Third in State

THIS YEAR'S track squad, after a slow start, caught fire in the middle of the season and blazed to a fifty percent record in chalking up six wins in twelve meets, and good showings in the State Indoor and KU Relays.

At the Emporia Relays, the Trojan thinclads finished a close second behind Salina. The next week, the squad avenged its loss by topping the Mustangs by 25 points in the Topeka Relays. In the Baker Relays, Troy breezed to the team title, besting second-place Ottawa by 30 points.

In the State Meet, the Trojans were expected to be very much in contention for the team title. Defending champions Fred Slaughter and John Nunley, and broadjumper Elsberry Broadnax, the medley relay team, and the 880-yard relay team all had some of the top marks in the state. But luck was not with the Trojans and they ended up in third place, the only winners being Sparky Patterson in the 440 and Broadnax in the broadjump.

With many returning lettermen, and the services of such veterans as Dave Crandall, Nunley, and Bill Harris, 1961 will continue to "look up."

Experienced Linksmen Keep Fairway Prospects Bright

IN THEIR opening tournament, the golfers snared first place, setting up the coming season as a "winner." With a team made up of Senior Bob Swan, Juniors Bay Chotlos and Scott Linscott, and a Sophomore, Bill McDonald, winning in almost every start, the linksmen rolled to seven first places in their eleven tournaments.

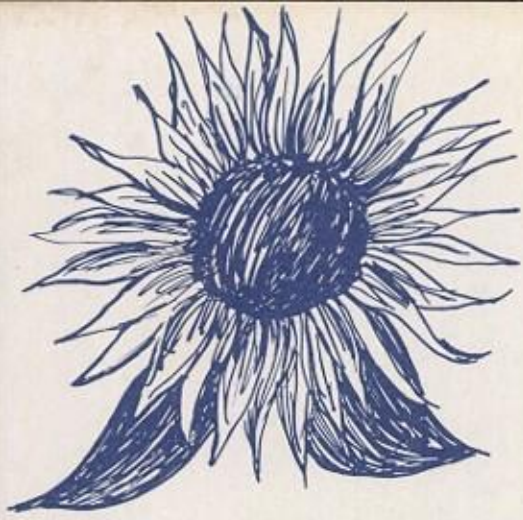

In the state meet at Lawrence, the Trojans met with bad luck and ended up with second place. In a play-off with Hutchinson for the title, and along with a disputed ruling by the officials, the opposition was awarded the coveted trophy.

With three men from the four-man crew returning, plus other experienced players, Coach Laney can expect his second year as golf mentor to be even better.
